CITY IS HEARD IN APPEAL ON REFUNDING

Appeal Court Told Victoria Scheme Is Not Plan of Repudiation

In Interests Of Both Sides

VANCOUVER (CP)—H. A. Maclean, K.C., counsel for Victoria City, today argued before the British Columbia Court of Appeal that Victoria's debt refunding scheme was "not an act of repudiation."

The court is hearing Victoria's appeal from a judgment in the B.C. Supreme Court by Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson that the Victoria City Debt Refunding Act of 1937 was ultra vires of the British Columbia Legislature.

Mr. Maclean said he would proceed on the assumption that no question of insolvency was involved. He said the "pith and substance" of the legislation was to give the city time to pay its debts.

The substantial change made by the Refunding Act was to extend the time for payment of principal on debentures falling due to 1966. Mr. Maclean said it was "a very fair and just piece of legislation."

The charge made was small, he said, and intended to enable the city to carry itself over a financial depression. It was as much in the interests of the debenture holders as of the city.

If the holders of debentures had insisted on payment on the due dates, the city might have faced bankruptcy.

TWO GROUNDS

The act was being attacked on two grounds, he said. First of these was that it dealt with rights outside the province, and second that it invaded federal jurisdiction, because it dealt to a certain extent with interest payments.

Mr. Maclean said the change was slight in regard to the latter argument. The interest continued at the same rate to date of maturity of the old bonds, when by the statute the city undertook to pay 4 1/2 per cent to the new maturity date, 1966.

Argument is proceeding.

House Burns At East Wellington

NANAIMO (CP)—The home of Mrs. Sarah Stewart at nearby East Wellington was destroyed by fire early today when sparks from the chimney fell on the roof and set fire to shingles in the stiff breeze.

It was not known whether the house was insured. Only a few small household effects were saved.

To Be Offered by Britain for Title Queen of Seas

When Queen Elizabeth of England cracks a bottle of champagne over the nose of the Cunard-White Star liner named in her honor next September, Great Britain can undisputedly boast of owning the world's largest ocean liner. The new Queen Elizabeth, pictured above from a scale model, will be 1,031 feet long, nearly a dozen feet longer than the Queen Mary, her theoretical sister ship. She also differs from the Mary in the amount of streamlining, in having but two funnels, and in the complete absence of the familiar hook-shaped ventilators, eliminated by an air-conditioning system. Built at a cost of $25,000,000, the new ocean giant will carry 2,000 passengers and a crew of 1,250 when she goes into active service early in 1940.

SEEKING AID ON INDIGENTS

Municipal Leaders to Meet Cabinet Next Week On Unemployables

Seeking assistance from the provincial government in caring for unemployable indigents, the Union of B.C. Municipalities executive will meet the cabinet next week.

An interview on the subject was arranged today with Premier Pattullo.

Municipal leaders claim that the load placed on them by the province cutting unemployables off relief is too great. They propose that the government help them by making contributions through its welfare service.

An interview with labor leaders who are pressing for a new interpretation of the Industrial Disputes Arbitration and Conciliation Act will be held later in the month, the Premier said.

The labor men have complained that rulings under the new act favor company unions and hinder the regular trade unions in negotiating for employees.

VANCOUVER (CP)—James Bishop was found dead at the wheel of his automobile at 10 this forenoon. Police said he had collapsed as he drove. The car was in a shallow ditch beside the roadway.

While Japanese Shell City Wall, Reports Indicate Stalemate

Chinese Claim Morale Is High

SHANGHAI (AP)—Desperate Chinese resistance near Japanese assault units well away from the walls of battered Suchow Wednesday night while Chinese reported other Japanese forces in the Tangshan sector, 50 miles west of Suchow, had been thrown back.

A Chinese communique said the defenders of the vital Lung-hai railway had launched a counter-offensive south of Tangshan and driven a Japanese column there almost back to Yungcheng, in Honan Province.

(In Hankow a Chinese army spokesman declared this drive had "broken the spearhead of the Japanese advance toward the south." He asserted Chinese lines still were "fundamentally unbroken" and Chinese "morale remains excellent.")

Japanese artillery continued to shell Suchow's west wall and gates, but indications increased that capture of the city, nerve centre of the far-flung central China battlefront, was proving more difficult than previous jubilant Japanese reports had predicted.

Earlier Japanese reports said thousands of Chinese soldiers and civilians had left Suchow by the east gate, pouring through the countryside to avoid the Japanese columns closing in on all sides.

A Japanese communique said the west wall already had been seriously damaged by systematic bombardment from hill positions a few miles away. Concentration of the shelling on that side indicated it was intended the infantry would attack there.

Emphasizing the bitterness of the fighting for the important rail junction, Japanese forces received new orders "no prisoners are to be taken so as to shorten the war's duration."

Cutter Goes To Aid Fish Boat

PORT ANGELES, Wash. (AP)—The United States coastguard cutter Redwing put to sea shortly before noon today to assist the halibut vessel Ivanhoe, reported adrift 200 miles from here off the west coast of Vancouver Island.

A radio message was received from the master of a steamer this morning reporting the Ivanhoe had broken down four days ago and had been drifting since, powered only by a jury sail, coast-guard officers here said. The message said the boat had only 24 hours' provisions left.

The Redwing will tow the boat to port.

New York Plane Crashes in Bay

NEW YORK (AP)—An airplane reported to be carrying at least three persons crashed in Jamaica Bay off Floyd Bennett Airport today. A coastguard boat set out at once on a rescue attempt. Further details were not immediately available.

MRS. HERRIDGE LAID TO REST

Impressive Ceremony at Vancouver Funeral of Sister of Mr. Bennett

VANCOUVER (CP)—The body of Mrs. W. D. Herridge was brought to Vancouver today for burial beside that of her sister, Mrs. Evelyn Coates, in Mountain View Cemetery.

Mrs. Herridge, wife of the former Canadian Minister to the United States and sister of Mr. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader and former Prime Minister of Canada, died in New York last Thursday after five weeks' illness.

It was her own request that she be buried near her sister in Vancouver, where she lived during the Great War and visited frequently since then.

The casket bearing the body lay in a flower-banked express car in the first section of the morning train from the east. The only passengers carried in the section were Mr. Herridge and Mr. Bennett, in a special car just behind the express car.

As the train stopped, friends stepped aboard and offered their sympathy to Mr. Herridge and Mr. Bennett.

In a few minutes Mr. Bennett, his head uncovered and bowed, walked from the train with Mr. Herridge and Vancouver friends to a waiting automobile. They were driven away before the casket was carried to a hearse.

Weather Is Coldest For Date in 33 Years as Votes Cast

JOHANNESBURG (CP-Reuters)—South Africans went to the polls wearing their overcoats today as the coldest May weather in 33 years was recorded for election day. The mercury fell to 38 degrees and the cold was accentuated by high autumn winds.

Observers agreed the election was not likely to yield many surprises. The return of Prime Minister J. B. M. Hertzog's government was predicted almost unanimously.

Premier Presses Highway Scheme

Pattullo to Resume Ottawa Talks Next Month On Alaska Road

Premier Pattullo will return to Ottawa at the end of this month to pursue negotiations on the B.C.-Alaska Highway.

The Premier said this morning he intends to fly east, probably leaving about May 30.

Hopeful that the province can take advantage of the current proposal of the United States to advance funds for the $15,000,000 project, the Premier said he intends to discuss it further with federal authorities. He may also visit the U.S. again.

Pointing out that British Columbia is not in a position now to finance the road by itself, the Premier said he felt the issue was worth while pressing when the U.S. appeared favorable to assisting it.

Federal Loan Is Oversubscribed

Books For $140,000,000 Cash and Conversion Open 37 Minutes

OTTAWA (CP)—The new $140,000,000 Dominion loan which went on the market today was over-subscribed half an hour after the books had opened, the Finance Department announced.

The official announcement said: "The subscription books of the new Dominion of Canada loan which opened at 9 o'clock this morning were closed at 9:37 eastern daylight time in respect of cash and conversion subscriptions for both maturities of the new loan. The loan was over-subscribed. When subscriptions have been allotted information will be released in regard to the allotments in each of the two maturities of the new loan."

Additional financial assistance for services outside Europe will be approximately $1,000,000, of which the greater part will go into the endeavor to link to the scattered portions of the vast empire. In conjunction with the Dominions extra services are planned to Canada. Development of the Australian service is in view. There also is the trans-Pacific project.

STRAWBERRIES IN TWO WEEKS

Warm Weather Following Rains Speeds Ripening of Island Crop

Strawberry growers of Greater Victoria this morning welcomed the present warm weather as long hours of sunshine are all the berries need to ripen in order to be in the local retail stores by June 1.

"Prospects for the strawberry crop are fairly good at this time," said Capt. Edward Livesey, manager of the Saanich Fruitgrowers' Association, this morning. "We expect nothing exceptional; only the average crop when the weather is favorable. We need warmer weather. The moisture has been good."

A few plantations in the lower places were affected by frost about two weeks ago, but the damage was not very serious, Capt. Livesey said.

The farms of Saanich, which grow perhaps the finest berries on Vancouver Island, are looking particularly fine at present. The berries are growing in neat rows up gently-sloping hills and in two or three weeks will be ready for women will find a few weeks' employment picking them.

Organize Positions On Heights For Offensive Against Valencia Highway

HENDAYE, France (AP)—Insurgents organized a series of heights from Teruel east to Mosquera today as the jumping-off line for a general attack against the government's strong defenses on the Valencia highway to the south.

Military dispatches from the eastern front said the last preliminary positions had been captured and all units of Gen. Miguel Aranda's command of the eastern front now were in liaison.

Rains continued and insurgent sources indicated they might await good weather before ordering a general advance.

BRITAIN BIDS FOR AIR TRADE

Commons Asked to Raise Subsidies to $15,000,000; Canada Links

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain is to make a bolder bid for air traffic. Under a bill, second reading of which Sir Kingsley Wood, the new Secretary for Air, moved in the House of Commons today, government subsidies to civil air transport are to be doubled, from £1,500,000 ($7,500,000) to £3,000,000 ($15,000,000).

The bill opens a new chapter in British civil aviation. All countries, Sir Kingsley indicated, have found it necessary to subsidize air transport.

Additional financial assistance for services outside Europe will be approximately $1,000,000, of which the greater part will go into the endeavor to link to the scattered portions of the vast empire. In conjunction with the Dominions extra services are planned to Canada. Development of the Australian service is in view. There also is the trans-Pacific project.

Tanker May Go To Seattle

Survey Carried Out on Santa Maria After Being Floated Here

Survey of the Union Oil tanker was made in the Royal Roads today following the floating of the vessel at 7:15 last night from Glimpse Reef, Finlayson Point, after being ashore 16 hours.

The survey was carried out by Alex. Scott, Lloyd's classification agent, Vancouver; Capt. F. L. Clarke of the Board of Marine Underwriters, San Francisco, and W. G. Jordan, superintendent for the Pacific Salvage Company.

No decision had been reached up to a late hour this afternoon, it was understood, although it was generally believed that the ship would be taken to Seattle for drydocking and repair.

The Santa Maria was floated without difficulty shortly before high tide last night with a large crowd of sightseers looking on. The salvage vessels taking the strain on cables attached to the stern were the Salvage King, Snohomish, Anyox and Salvage Princess. At the first pull the tanker responded and slid easily from the reef into deep water.

The Santa Maria is equipped with powerful pumps and these easily took care of the water which entered No. 3 tank and the port pumphouse.

The vessel proceeded under her own steam to an anchorage in the Royal Roads.

U.S. Planes Are Shipped To China

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—One of the largest consignments of United States-made warplanes exported to China was scheduled to leave San Pedro for Hongkong today aboard the British motorship Greystoke Castle of the Barber Line. The Norwegian freighter Tirtan, also operated by the Barber Line, took out a number of planes Monday night.

In all, 19 single-engine attack-bombers are included in the cargoes of the two vessels. The planes are valued at $900,000, an all-year-round service to Switzerland.

The government desires that aircraft used should be 100 per cent British.

Assistance will be given British internal services on the clear understanding the companies will make an effort to become self-sustaining, accept liability and agree to the appointment of government directors. A further condition is that 75 per cent of the pilots be in the Air Force Reserve.

QUICK ACTION

The Union Air Terminal, headquarters for the search, was quickly emptied of officials and newsmen hurrying to the scene in the rugged Sierra Pelona region.

Peterson reached the crash scene in the brush-covered, low-sloping hills about 5:30 a.m., having decided to make a search after a neighbor woman had told him last night of hearing the sound of an airplane Monday afternoon.

The fog Monday was so thick, he said, it was probable the burning craft could not have been seen 100 yards.

The crash occurred only 30 miles from the Union Air Terminal in Burbank, from where it started.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ambulance crews today reached the wreckage of a big airliner that carried nine persons to death Monday when it crashed on Mount Stroh, 19 miles northeast of Saugus.

Five bodies were taken from the blackened and twisted wreckage, some of them burned beyond recognition. Four bodies were thrown clear as the plane, lost in a dense fog, dashed against the mountainside, its motors roaring.

That the pilot, Sid Willey, was unaware of impending disaster was seen in his failure to cut the motor switches. The gasoline tanks had exploded and the transport was demolished by flames.

The giant ship cut a blackened path through 400 yards of shrubs, timber and yucca. Strewn along this path were some of the bodies, parts of the plane and personal effects of the occupants. One of the twin motors had been torn loose. It rolled 150 yards down the mountainside. One propeller was shorn off as the liner crashed. The fuselage was shredded, apparently by the explosion.

Tentative identifications placed the body of Mrs. Henry Webb Salisbury of St. Paul, Minn., in the wreckage. The bodies of her two children, Richard, three, and Judith, two and a half months, were near her. The remains of both the pilots, Willey and Fred Wittemore, were in the crumpled fore compartment.

The body of Miss Liola Totty of Glendale was lying about 20 yards from where the plane finally stopped. Two bodies near hers were believed to be those of Mrs. Carl B. Squier of North Hollywood and Miss Evelyn Dingle of St. Paul.

Fred Wittemore was vice-president in charge of operations of Northwest Airlines. He was acting as co-pilot on this trip, on which the redesigned Lockheed 14 was to be delivered at St. Paul. The flight was started from the Union Air Terminal at Burbank at 1:40 Monday afternoon. A stop had been scheduled at Las Vegas, Nev., little more than an hour later.

Miss Liola Totty was a Lockheed secretary.

Miss Evelyn Dingle was a Northwest Airlines secretary at St. Paul.

TOOK SHORT CUT

Willey, a Lockheed test pilot, had charted a "short cut" route over the mountains to the Mojave Desert, planning to fly contact with the earth. He took off a few minutes ahead of a Western Air Express transport, which safely completed a regular commercial trip on a triangular radio-beam course.

Word of the whereabouts of the wreckage came early today when the sheriff's office received a report from a Mint Canyon rancher who had found the charred fragments.

The discovery was made by Walter Peterson, one and a half miles off the Mint Canyon highway, in rugged area where a two-day search, hampered by fog, had been in progress.

The fog Monday was so thick, he said, it was probable the burning craft could not have been seen 100 yards.

The crash occurred only 30 miles from the Union Air Terminal in Burbank, from where it started.

JOBLESS WANT WORK ASSURED

VANCOUVER (CP)—R. W. Campbell, a member of the executive of the Relief Project Workers' Union, told the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council last night that Vancouver's single unemployed union members want jobs guaranteed before they accept transportation back to the prairies.

In a short speech before the council meeting in which he sought union representation in the council, Campbell said: "The latest gem to solve the unemployment problem is a proposal from Victoria to send 1,800 men back to the prairies. I can tell you it is no more pleasant to starve on the prairies than in Vancouver.

"We will only accept transportation back there if jobs are guaranteed us at the other end." He asked the labor council to send a delegation to Victoria to ask for a works program to rehabilitate the unemployed, but no action was taken either on that suggestion or his plea for R.P.W.U. representation on the council.

Campbell's statement was apparently in answer to an announcement by Labor Minister George Pearson at Victoria yesterday that the government would assist outside unemployed to return to their home provinces.

Honor Memory Of Vancouver

Annual Pilgrimage Made
From London to Graveyard
at Petersham

RICHMOND, Eng.—The memory of Captain George Vancouver was honored today at St. Peter's churchyard, Petersham, where the grave is.

In commemoration of the 140th anniversary of his death, Canadians and others made the annual pilgrimage from London to the moss-covered churchyard to pay tribute to the explorer who gave his name to the big British Columbia island and the nearby mainland city.

W. Hamilton Kerr, parliamentary private secretary to Rt. Hon. Alfred Duff Cooper, First Lord of the Admiralty, in a speech at the grave said, "It is heartening to learn that in these troubled times the Dominion Government has taken important defence measures on the Pacific coast." He described the new defences planned for British Columbia "an important contribution to the defence of the Empire."

POOLEY PLACES WREATH
R. H. Pooley of Victoria, B.C., laid a wreath on behalf of the Native Sons of British Columbia. Sir Hal Colebatch, agent-general for Western Australia; Mayor W. A. Gibson of Fremantle, and the mayors of Richmond and King's Lynn, were among those who attended the service.

Vancouver's grave is marked with a plain white headstone with the inscription: "Captain George Vancouver, died in the year 1798, aged 40."

Inside the church there is a memorial tablet inscribed: "In the cemetery adjoining the church were interred in the year 1798 the mortal remains of Captain George Vancouver, R.N., whose valuable enterprising voyage of discovery to the North-Pacific Ocean and round the world during five years' laborious surveying greatly to the geographical knowledge of his countrymen."

Two B.C. Chinese Jailed For Fraud

VANCOUVER (CP)—Judge J. N. Ellis today imposed sentences of two years' imprisonment on John Lowe, 28, and Wong Lang, 30, both Chinese, convicted of conspiracy to defraud.

Judge Ellis said the scheme used by the accused in defrauding citizens and business houses was "so fantastic that I wonder at credulity of the men who were the victims."

Evidence at the trial showed the accused ordered merchandise and paid on delivery by cheque. The cheques were worthless, and when the merchants called for return of the goods they found they had been removed from the delivery point.

Lowe's young Chinese wife wept when sentence was pronounced. Her young son laughed with court attendants.

ESSEN, Germany (CP-Havas)—In the event of war, South Africa will seek the aid of Great Britain and the United States to defend the union "and other British dominions" according to the National Zeitung.

Stressing Germany's interest in today's election, the newspaper said "the vital question to South Africa is to find out whether the 2,000,000 whites will be able to maintain their supremacy over the 215,000 Asiatics, 6,500,000 natives and almost 1,500,000 half-breeds.

The Boer Nationalists of Dr. D. F. Malan are hostile to Anglo-Jewish capitalism, to British racial Liberalism, and the compromise policy of General Hertzog, and demand the Union's complete neutrality in the event of a European conflict," it said. "They admit the Union's entry into a conflict only if it is to counter an attack.

"The elections will show, therefore, whether the Hertzog policy, based on the idea that the Union cannot be defended without the British fleet, gains more ballots than the autonomy policy of the Nationalists.

New Defences On British Island

Naval Base Being Built on Portland on English Channel

LONDON (AP)—A naval base is being built on the island of Portland to guard the western mouth of the English Channel from any attack from Spanish ports.

The base, to protect an approach used by the ill-fated Spanish Armada of 1588, has long been a secondary defence asset, but has achieved primary importance as a result of foreign intervention in the Spanish war and the theory that a hostile power might use Spanish ports for wartime operations.

Modernization and extension of the harbor and dockyard at Portland is already under way. Naval air squadrons soon will take over a large part of the island, including the military citadel known as the Verne, normally garrisoned by the army.

Britain's largest warships can anchor in the harbor, entering and leaving whatever the state of the tide.

Already the site of the navy's anti-submarine school, Portland soon will be the chief anti-submarine base, sheltering a powerful force of swift motor torpedo boats, submarines and bombing planes. Naval experts believe a fleet of small ships might "worry" an invading fleet much as the Spanish Armada was harried 350 years ago.

The island is heavily armed. Across Weymouth Bay, opposite Portland, a coastal defence battery, first set up in the Great War, is being remounted.

Australia Aiding Britain's Defence

LONDON (CP Havas)—British rearmament will get every co-operation from Australia, according to that Dominion's Minister of Trade, Lt. Col. Thomas W. White.

"Defence is clearly a matter of joint responsibility and Australia is trying to play her part," he told the Royal Empire Society at a luncheon yesterday. "Australia is trying to make herself strong."

Doves are classed as migratory birds.

Newfoundland Miners Busy

LONDON (CP)—Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, newly appointed Colonial Secretary, told the House of Commons Tuesday that mining activity in Newfoundland was proceeding unchecked, with lead, zinc and iron mines working at capacity. Production of minerals formed a bright picture in contrast with the marketing of fish, which was adversely affected by the Spanish war and Brazilian tariffs.

only to a considerable reduction in exports of fish to the Spanish market, but also increased competition in other markets. The difficulties were further accentuated by the imposition in Brazil of new taxes on fish products which, although recently reduced in part, are still so high as to cripple imports.

Representations had been made to the Brazilian government with a view to further reduction in the rates, said Mr. MacDonald.

Practice Bombs For the Air Force

OTTAWA (CP)—National Defence Department officials disclosed yesterday an order for 20,000 practice aerial bombs, without powder, had been placed with the firm of Parmenter & Bullock, Gananoque, Ont. They will be used by the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Aid Is Asked For China Refugees

SHANGHAI (AP)—The International Red Cross has issued an urgent appeal for immediate financial aid, declaring its funds are exhausted and 170,000 Chinese refugees here face "desperate plight."

Officials said Tuesday that food reserves were adequate for only one more month.

They said at least $250,000 would be needed to finance relief through September, including

Ottawa Watches Anticosti Plans

OTTAWA (CP)—In respect to rumored negotiations for the sale of Anticosti Island, the interests of the country are being safeguarded, Prime Minister King told the House of Commons Tuesday afternoon.

brought up the question, reading a newspaper report indicating the island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence might be sold to a foreign group. He questioned the wisdom of parting with an island so strategically located.

Mr. King said the government was aware of the importance of the island. Several inquiries had been made and the government would continue to safeguard Canada's interests.

Aberhart Heard In Saskatchewan

Three Addresses By Alberta
Premier in One Day in Election Campaign

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask. (CP)—If Social Crediters were allowed to demonstrate their theories for "just one year" they would prove successful, Premier Aberhart of Alberta said here Tuesday night.

Poor distribution of purchasing power was the cause of present economic distress, he told a crowd of nearly 3,700 that spilled outside the hockey arena to hear his third address in the Saskatchewan election campaign.

Among the crowd was a delegation that had come 120 miles south from Meadow Lake in a 26-car caravan to hear Mr. Aberhart urge a Social Credit victory in the June 8 voting.

The leader of the Western Canada Social Credit Association said both Saskatchewan and Alberta had common problems, so there was not any "sinister" motive in his campaigning in this province.

BANK CHARTER

MAIDSTONE, Sask. (CP)—Premier Aberhart of Alberta said here Tuesday that Hon. C. A. Dunning, Dominion Finance Minister, "better be careful or I'll call his bluff some day and show him how to run a bank."

Mr. Aberhart made the statement in reply to a written question at the end of his second public meeting in his two-week speaking tour of Saskatchewan as part of the Social Credit campaign for the June 8 provincial general election.

A person in the crowd of 600 that overflowed a small theatre had asked if Mr. Dunning had not offered the Alberta government a charter and the opportunity to form a bank.

Plane Factories Rapidly Expand

LONDON (CP)—Sir Thomas Inskip, Minister for Defence Co-ordination, stated last night the personnel of factories manufacturing airplanes for the Royal Air Force was increasing at the rate of 1,500 to 2,000 a month.

Defending Viscount Swinton's "stupendous" labors in a speech at an Air League dinner, Sir Thomas said the number of workers in shadow factories had increased 15-fold in the past nine months.

The figure of 3,500 first-line planes, set for realization by April, 1940, "may not be the limit of what we must one day reach," Sir Thomas said.

He declared Lord Swinton and Lord Weir had doubled Britain's strength in the air in a short time. "Some of the best things today cannot yet be disclosed and that, incidentally, may well be remembered when black spots sometimes seem to cover most of the picture," he said.

Lord Swinton resigned Monday as air secretary and Sir Kingsley Wood was appointed to the post.

Plane Delivery Delay Explained

OTTAWA (CP)—There has been no delay in the delivery of airplanes to trans-Canada Airlines because of the manufacture of planes for Japan as far as Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, knows.

He told the House of Commons yesterday afternoon that transport planes are not made in Canada and orders for them were placed with a United States firm. There was a delay in delivery, but he presumed it was common to all orders of this type. Any Japanese order was a matter between the U.S. Government and Japan.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F., Rosetown-Biggan, Sask., had asked the minister to investigate a report the sale of 30 machines to Japan from Canada was holding up delivery and to see that no license was given for export of planes to Japan.

R.C. RELIEF LOAN RENEWED

OTTAWA (CP)—An order-in-council providing for a one-year renewal of a $1,850,000 relief loan to British Columbia was tabled in the House of Commons Tuesday afternoon. The loan will mature May 29. The one-year renewal will be obtained by a treasury bill bearing interest at 3 per cent a year.

Petty Politics

IF THE ALASKA HIGHWAY PROJECT has been injected into the Dewdney by-election campaign, the Vancouver Daily Province has done most of the injecting, with references to the Prime Minister's recent mission to Ottawa and Washington which are hardly in harmony with the general desire of British Columbians to increase the business—and particularly the tourist business—of this province.

So far as we have been able to learn, Premier Pattullo has had nothing definite to say, or even to predict, as to what plan to finance this international undertaking will be considered by the two parties to any agreement which may be reached. We have been told in advance from Washington that the United States government will establish a commission to collaborate with a similar commission authorized to act for this country, that it would be the duty of such a body to explore all the mechanics of the scheme and what financial policy in connection with it would be most suitable to all concerned.

What Mr. Mackenzie King and his colleagues in the Ottawa government think about the project we have not yet been told. And while it may be taken for granted that they are interested in the proposal for more reasons than for its prime consideration as a money-maker for British Columbia—and for Canada as a whole—the Prime Minister has not publicly intimated to what extent, if any, the Dominion is prepared to assist in preliminary negotiations by the appointment of a Canadian commission.

The taxpayers of British Columbia naturally do not want to be committed to further obligations unless they are convinced any new investment of provincial capital is reasonably assured of suitable return. A very large section of the people of this province believes that this proposed highway right through British Columbia to connect the state of Washington with the United States territory of Alaska would be good business for our own people, that it would return direct commercial dividends, and act as a stimulant to the already cordial relations which exist between Canada and her neighbor on the south.

We have said before, and we repeat, this is not a matter of village politics, a new party javelin for the Vancouver Province to toss at the opposition. It is a matter of plain business which, if consummated, promises much to British Columbia. As the Colonist said when Premier Tolmie advocated this Alaska highway in 1930: "Dr. Tolmie, in promoting the British Columbia-Alaska road, has opened up a vista of doubling, trebling, perhaps quadrupling the tourist traffic to this province in the years to come," and, "viewed from any angle, the project has possibilities that must redound to the advantage of the province."

From the foregoing comments expressed by the morning paper we get the long view of the undertaking now apparently nearer the practical stage than ever before. It is the correct attitude to take. It is in striking contrast with the attitude of the Vancouver newspaper, which seems to be trying to extract more satisfaction from playing petty politics than in supporting a scheme favored by every forward-looking organization and the great bulk of the taxpaying public.

This Armament Business

UNDER THE TITLE OF "PARITY IN THE AIR," the morning paper draws attention to the change in the direction of Great Britain's Air Ministry, occasioned by the resignation of Viscount Swinton. It says parity in the air was acknowledged to be the goal four years ago when Mr. Baldwin, as he then was, pronounced this:

"The National Government will see to it that in air strength and air power this country shall no longer be in a position inferior to any country within striking distance of our shores." Some months later the then Prime Minister said: "His Majesty's Government are determined in no conditions to accept any position of inferiority with regard to what air force may be raised in Germany in the future."

What has happened, says the Colonist, "is that Great Britain has not got parity. It has to face this truth, and in facing it there has been a shake-up in the Air Ministry which indicates there will be a broad change in the basis of the methods employed to build up air strength." In a parallel column in another editorial in the same issue our contemporary, discussing Canada's defenses, says in part:

"It is perhaps to the credit of Mr. Ian Mackenzie, the Minister of National Defence, that he is candid about the shortcomings of his own department; it is to the discredit of his powers of administration that he has not long ago set right the conditions of which he complains. He says that orders for anti-aircraft guns were placed in 1935 and they have not yet been delivered; that tanks and heavy ordnance ordered long ago are still unavailable. If these cannot be secured from Great Britain, or elsewhere, the conclusion is that they should be constructed in Canada." Then the morning paper goes on to tell us: "In saying that Canada cannot do this, that or the other thing to carry out the government's purposes Mr. Mackenzie is criticizing himself. It is his duty to undertake only what can be accomplished. He has been in his present office for several years, long enough if he had exercised the necessary vision to ensure that the Dominion is self-sufficient for her armament needs."

This obvious straining to make political capital is not a little amusing. First it is explained that a government in office in Britain, where they know all the tricks of the trade of armament manufacture, has badly fallen down in the supply of the country's fighting equipment, in spite of the fact that the same government has been in office for more than seven years; and then Mr. Ian Mackenzie comes in for a particularly bitter castigation because he has not been able to get Canada's armament blast furnaces in full operation in the 30 months (not "several years") he has held his present portfolio.

Superimposed on this condition in Great Britain and Canada is the announcement that the British Government now is paying the Canadian Government the compliment of considering Canada as a sort of life-saver in the role of potential provider of aircraft and other armaments to Britain.

The Proper Course

BY SPONSORING A PLAN BY WHICH those who came from other provinces will be assisted by the government to go back to the provinces from which they came, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, has taken a step that should go a long way toward solving British Columbia's difficulties in caring for single unemployed men.

There may be criticism from some who claim the whole Dominion of Canada should be free to any citizen to roam as he chooses, but the plan makes no attack on the liberty of the subject. It is not economically sound or fair to the rest of the citizens that a group of men should flock to a section already unfairly pressed as the result of such an influx. Mr. Pearson has frequently said that if British Columbia had only to provide jobs for its own citizens the unemployment problem would be practically negligible. The problem is, however, accentuated by men who come from the prairies and eastern provinces and who, when they come here demand government support during periods of idleness. Eighteen hundred men, mostly from the prairie provinces, were cared for by the B.C. government in forest development projects during the winter.

Mr. Pearson expresses the opinion that these men should now return to the provinces from which they came as rapidly as possible, and the government will assist them to do so. The request seems particularly reasonable in view of the fact that federal authorities say that if the men who came to the coast during the winter had stayed on the prairies they would have been placed on farms. Forty-two thousand men were placed on farms under the federal plan and the demand was for more men. Many men who could have been profitably employed on farms apparently in the provinces from which they came were, instead, a charge on the government of British Columbia.

Unless aimless wandering around the Dominion ceases it may eventually be necessary for workers to register at employment bureaus or some other offices. There they might be advised of the prospects of work in the district they seek to go. If they insist on going when advised that the prospects are nil, they can hardly expect government assistance.

Notes

The Japanese have proved their super-efficiency. Nobody else was ever able to unite China.

Alarmists tell us free nations must whip the others now or never. That's fine! Let's make it never.

Oh, the lovely signs of spring! The singing birds, the laughing children, the popping off of Dizzy Dean.

How do you know unhampered business couldn't provide jobs for all? It did pretty well for 200 years.

Spain's best men killed; her children butchered; her richest mines given to Italy and Germany; and they will call it a victory.

The chief enemy of workers is not the wicked capitalist, but the leader who makes them do something that costs them the public's friendship.

KING CAROL AND FASCISTS

New Statesman and Nation, London. King Carol of Roumania on the side of the angels—or at least fighting the blacker sort of devils—is a strange spectacle! His blows at the Iron Guard and M. Codreanu are not, of course, inspired by any love of democracy. He is an absolutist, fighting for his own interest against an out-and-out Fascist movement which, if it gets into power, would reduce him to a cipher—or to something even more disagreeable.

Nevertheless, at this juncture, the king's interests may march to a large extent with ours. We may be a little skeptical about the popular reforms he promises; but at least he is a barrier against the anti-Semitism and the rest of the Fascist abominations that M. Codreanu and his friends have stood for. Nor is this all. Carol's moves, and the support they have had in the country, are a sign of a reorientation of Roumanian policy—a cooling off of the relations with Germany which were warming up a few months ago, and a reversion to the old attachment to France.

German designs in southeastern Europe have been pretty patent, and it is natural enough that not Roumania only, but her neighbors, should regard the latest developments between Italy, Britain and France as offering the best defence against a Nazi "Drang nach Osten."

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

PROPHETS.

ONE OF THE MOST notable signs of the present time is the decline of public confidence in public men. Since the Roosevelt legend blew up and everybody began to underestimate the President just as they used to over-estimate him a few years ago, there is no idol left in North America, and since Mr. Stalin started to shoot all his most intimate friends, the legend of the superman everywhere has been having a hard time. Everywhere people ask for an answer to our current discontents. Everywhere they cry out for a Messiah.

But suppose some man should come along with the Answer. Suppose some politician should arise who knew what must be done to save civilization from going over the brink. Nobody would pay any attention to him. His proposals would be universally discounted by all politicians because they would be too unpopular for political purposes. Learned economists would denounce them as unsound and prove it by mathematical formulae. Religious leaders would say the man was anti-Christ and the Beast of Revelation. The public would clamor for his imprisonment.

Very likely in a thousand years from now some history book will record that the man who knew the Answer appeared around 1938 and was unrecognized. "It is clear to us now," the historians will write, "that one John Smith of Wenatchee, Washington, had discovered the answer to the universal riddle, but unfortunately he was elected to the United States Senate and, after that, of course, it was impossible for him to do anything. And later a man named Pierre Leduc of Three Rivers, Quebec, preached a real solution of the current crisis, but he was immediately imprisoned under the Padlock Law. A man named Brown, in Birmingham, had the same inspiration a few years later, but the English thought him too dangerous and put him in the House of Lords where he could do no harm."

"Apparently several men with a real solution were born in Europe during this period, but all of them were shot by Stalin, Mussolini or Hitler. In Victoria, a settlement on the west coast of America, another prophet appeared, but when he wrote to the newspapers everybody laughed at him and he ended his days growing cabbages in Spanish and writing letters to the newspapers. His neighbors considered him a harmless bore."

No, we don't want the Answer. We want anything but the Answer. The Answer would be far too unpleasant to contemplate. The Answer to our present discontents, the real solution, would involve so much sacrifice by so many people, it would mean that so many would lose what they have, it would mean such a loss of privilege, such a chaos of classes, such a submergence of prominent folk and such an emergency of obscure folk; such an all-around housecleaning that hardly anyone dares to contemplate it. So we clamor for an Answer without really wanting it, or rather we want a painless Answer, like a fellow who wants his appendix removed without an operation.

SWEET MEMORY

IF YOU'LL PARDON another little lesson in history out of my recently-acquired collection of early Victorian newspapers, I would like you to consider a pleasant aspect of Victorian life in the merry month of May, 1865, as described by the Vancouver Times and Evening Express, published in this city.

On the front page of that journal, befitting its importance, appeared this striking news: "California has spoken freely and favourably of Squaraza's Punch, and now for the first time Squaraza himself desires to pay his respects to his patrons and the public at large and add a few words explanatory of the quality of the substances of which his punches are composed. Properties: Tonic, nutritive, diaphoretic, diuretic, anti-bilious, totally free from those deleterious effects produced upon the human system by the use of raw liquors. A few of the many results such use occasions may be here mentioned, such as: tummy troubles, pimples, blotches on the face, dyspepsia, offensive breath, vitiated taste, morbid appetite, gout, physical and mental prostration. The use of Squaraza's punches will impart strength and activity to the intellectual faculties, materially aid the digestive organs in the performance of their regular functions and infuse into and throughout the whole system instead of morbidity, dullness and torpor produced by indulgence in raw liquors, a feeling of gaiety and pleasurable excitement never followed by cramp in the stomach, dizziness or headache. These punches gradually warm the whole system to a comfortable condition, infuse a new spirit into faded faculties. Families, parties, excursionists and others will acknowledge that Squaraza's Punches are the most grateful, the most luxurious, convenient and economical of libations."

I quote this to prove to you that the advertiser's art was highly developed in Victoria in 1865. So far as liquor is concerned, the art has been deteriorating ever since. Now liquor manufacturers don't claim to impart physical and mental activity and perfect health. They merely assert that their liquor will make you good and tight, which is its purpose. And they have to resolve the government of all responsibility for advertising it, even though the government sells it as widely as possible.

In the old days Victoria lived better, or at least higher than we do. Almost half the advertisements on the front pages of all the newspapers were for liquor. That was the staid mid-Victorian period, compared with which we are supposed to be so wicked.

But no man is too proud to associate with the "socially impossible" if they have money to spend and he needs it.

The strangest thing about woman is the way she will impose on a man who is good to her and will work to support a panhandling bum.

Hull Takes Lead In "Broadening" U.S. Foreign Policy

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON. SECRETARY of State Hull, who may be our next President, insists on moving farther away from strict neutrality and isolation and toward a position where the United States can move on to actual intervention in world affairs if and when its executive heads deem that to be wise.

This was the chief significance of a recent speech Hull made at the National Press Club for broadcast to the world. First of all, Hull nailed down positions previously taken in his step-by-step delineation of a foreign policy whose actual significance is questioned by isolationists and pacifists.

CENSURED GERMAN COUP

He emphasized this country's process throughout the world—not merely in China—and implied strong disapproval of the German seizure of Austria as well as an intense interest in European affairs.

He dwelt on the desirability of parallel action by peaceful nations against "lawless" nations—a point of considerable importance when one gets to speculating as to how close parallel lines can approach each other without becoming the same line. And he re-emphasized an intention to protect American rights and interests abroad. "Interests" is one of the English language's broadest words.

Finally, and very cautiously, Hull laid the groundwork for a drive to repeal the neutrality act. The administration will make no frontal attack on the law. But the House Foreign Affairs Committee, under Hull's friend and fellow Tennessean Sam McReynolds, has begun hearings on a number of bills for its repeal or amendment.

Such foreign affairs stalwarts as ex-Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson and Dr. James T. Shotwell are expected to criticize neutrality act provisions. Whether anyone from the State Department will appear is uncertain. Hull says that application of the act to the Japanese-Chinese struggle would have defeated the purpose of the legislators. If Japan had declared war on China, however, application of the act presumably would have been mandatory—a situation which the administration wants to avoid.

Repeal of the act would remove the last check on the President's power to take the country into war. He has that power, although the formality of declaring war is left to Congress.

THE AMERICAN LANGUAGE

From Chicago Tribune. The language that has been in the making in America, with its close relation to actual life and change, its aptness and its imaginative quality, is carrying forward and reinvigorating the medium of expression of all the peoples who use the language derived from England. That language always borrowed richly from other languages. It built a strong framework, which survives, but it has kept building, altering, and improving with the times. It is the chief language of the world of today, but the centre of its vitality and the main process of its growth are no longer in the place of its birth, but in the United States. Here the creative urge is still young and full of vigor. It has been creating an American language, built upon old basic forms approved by long use, but evolving swiftly with the changing needs and conditions of modern existence. The main current flows here irresistibly with the current of life. It is not a product of schools. It is not a product of rules. It makes and breaks rules. It is a product of living.

CONQUEST OF ETHIOPIA

To the Editor:—Bravo New Zealand!

By your brave vote against recognition of the above-mentioned putting before Empire or anything else — you have earned for yourself a place in the sun and covered yourself with the glory that does not fade. You encourage all of us who still hold to Christian ethics. Would that Canada had had your spirit in 1935 and not repudiated Dr. Riddell's oil "sanction" proposal! Such action at that time would have permanently paved the way for peace by preserving an effective League of Nations (but would not have caused the colossal expansion of metal and chemical products at the expense of John Citizen—hence vetoed).

Unlike yours, New Zealand, the leaders of this Dominion run hither and yon looking for a policy to call their own—with, of course, "dollar domination" a sine qua non. They search in vain, and in the meantime we are fast being engulfed by the tidal-wave of Fascism.

GEORGE LE GALLAIS.

Performance Fees Approved

OTTAWA (CP)—In greatly altered form, the bill amending the Copyright Act, which W. K. Easing, Conservative, Kootenay West, piloted through the House of Commons, was approved last night by the Senate banking and commerce committee. The measure has been the centre of much contention, with the licensing powers of the Canadian Performing Rights Society subjected to criticism.

As it entered the Senate, following passage by the Commons, the bill would have required the society to file a list of all the works to which it claims title, and would have exempted small theatres, hotels, skating rinks and such places of amusement from payment of fees.

As now approved it requires the society to list only works in current use. It exempts agricultural fairs which receive Dominion, provincial or municipal grants from royalty payments, and also exempts churches, colleges and religious and charitable institutions.

However, a new clause imposes on broadcasting stations and gramophone manufacturers obligation to pay the royalties formerly collectable from places of public performance where radios and gramophones are regularly used for entertainments.

Esquimalt Women's Institute will hold its fortnightly card party Thursday evening at 8.15 in the Parish Hall.

Artists Chosen For Series

The membership drive of the Community Concert Association came to a successful close on Saturday night with a membership increased by students taking advantage of the reduced fee for school students.

Artists for the series of three concerts to be given in the Empress ballroom during the season were selected, the committee having in mind the tastes of not only the purely musical members, but also of the dramatic element to be considered.

Dorothy Crawford, a young artist who is already mentioned in the same breath with Ruth Draper, will be accompanied by a good concert pianist, and will open the season on a date early in December.

wherever she appears in her character sketches.

Kathryn Meisle, leading contralto of the Metropolitan Opera, will be heard here some time in February.

Miss Meisle has appeared with great success in concert, as well as opera, both in this country and in Europe.

Dalles Frantz is one of the sensational pianists of the day and has played with most of the leading symphony orchestras, including the Toronto and Montreal symphonies. He is sometimes referred to as the "Titan of the Keyboard," and will end the 1938-39 series of concerts under the community plan.

Mr. Frantz is one of the artists who has his own piano sent wherever he appears in concert, and his concert will bring to a brilliant close a series of fine concerts. The total number of members of the association is 487, and all the concerts will be given in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel.

Clubwomen Return All Officers Unopposed

Mrs. Harold L. Campbell, Again President, Women's Canadian Club; Mrs. T. G. S. Chambers Speaks on Romance of Tea

Officers of the Women's Canadian Club were returned by acclamation for another year, according to the report of the convenor of the nominating committee, presented at yesterday afternoon's meeting in the Empress Hotel. They are:

President, Mrs. Harold L. Campbell; first vice-president, Mrs. James Adam; second vice-president, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew; honorary secretary, Mrs. T. H. Johns; literary secretary, Mrs. T. A. Johnston; honorary treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Munro. The committee will be chosen at the annual meeting from the following list: Mesdames F. G. Aldous, Alan Campbell, H. B. Dawson, J. W. Fletcher, W. C. Fyfe, H. Lasenby, Donald McAdie, Duncan MacBride, M. J. McDonald, Ralph D. Matthews, Allan Peebles, P. E. Taylor and W. H. Wilson.

ROMANCE OF TEA

Mrs. T. G. S. Chambers of Vancouver was the speaker, her subject being "The Romance of Tea." She traced the use of tea as a beverage as far back as the eighth century in Japan, when the ancient ceremonial of tea-drinking was first established with a deeply religious meaning, and later developed a cultural significance which pertains in Japan to this day. But tea had been grown in China as far back as 3,000 years before Christ, when the philosopher Shennung wrote of it: "Tea is better than water because it does not carry disease."

Mrs. Chambers told of the introduction of tea into Great Britain in the sixteenth century, and of the growth of the tea industry under the Honorable East India Company, and its high price as a luxury for many years. Up to 100 years ago China had been the sole producer of tea, but now India was the greatest exporting country.

Reference was also made to the rivalry which developed between the American sailing ships and the famous Aberdeen clippers in carrying the crop to its destination. The address was followed by several reels of film showing the production of tea in its various stages.

Mrs. Harold Campbell presided at the gathering and Mrs. James Adam thanked the speaker on behalf of the club.

U.B.C. HISTORY
Mr. David Carey of the Alma Mater Society of the University of British Columbia spoke briefly of the university and its history, its high academic standards, and the splendid success attained in the professional and commercial world by its graduates.

YOUTHFUL SOLOISTS

The audience which numbered nearly 400 gave a rousing welcome to the little winners of the club's Musical Festival trophy, Keith Little and Enid Middleton. They were the winners of the club's silver bowl with highest marks in five classes, and Keith won the highest marks in nine classes. The little boy sang two folk songs, "The Jolly Waggoner" and "Cockles and Mussels," with refreshing charm and confidence.

Mrs. MacCallum, the little girl, who sang two solos very sweetly, was accompanied by Joyce Morrish.

Miss Honor Benson, the guest soloist, sang with her usual spontaneous charm Grieg's "I Love Thee" and "The Little Damsel," accompanied at the piano by Miss Evelyn Harper.

Announcement was made that at the annual meeting on June 14 Mrs. Lugin Fahey would give a lecture-recital.

Will Lecture On "The Holy Land"

Business Club Plans May Banquet

At Beach Hotel on May 28; Visitors Expected

Arrangements for the annual May banquet were made by the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club at its meeting held Monday evening at the clubrooms, Union Building, Mrs. A. Longley in the chair.

The dinner, at which a number of visitors from mainland clubs are expected, will be held at the Beach Hotel, Oak Bay, on Saturday evening, May 28, at 7.30. On Sunday, May 29, club members and visitors will be entertained at Mrs. H. M. Hall's home at Gordon Head.

Mrs. Duncan McTavish reported on the final results of the decorated table display held at the Empress Hotel, the results from every standpoint being most gratifying. Mrs. McTavish and the members of her committee were warmly thanked for their efforts. The proceeds will substantially augment the Bay Wigley Memorial scholarship fund, for which several generous donations were also gratefully acknowledged.

Plans were made for the annual meeting on June 27, and a nominating committee and auditors were appointed. Mrs. Longley announced that she would be hostess at the final "open house" of the season to be held on Friday evening, June 3. One new member, Mrs. Fraser, was welcomed.

Juniors Host To Mothers at Tea

The W.B.A. Junior Rose Court held an enjoyable program and tea, given on Sunday afternoon in the Women's Institute Rooms.

The supervisor, Mrs. G. Gaetz, and Elaine Coates, president of the Juniors, opened the affair with a speech of welcome to the guests.

The program was opened by the juniors singing their theme song. Then six little girls, dressed in old-fashioned pink organdie frocks, gave a playlet entitled "Mother," while Hilda Jacques accompanied them at the piano. Thelma Gaetz sang a solo, "Daffodils Swaying," which was much applauded, giving "Boy of Mine" as an encore, with Mrs. C. Hole at the piano. Pianoforte solos were played by Hilda Jacques, Connie Henson and Patricia Cameron, while Mrs. Margaret Cameron and Veronica Mark.

The junior "mystery box" was won by Doreen Rednap, while Mrs. J. Winters won the senior box. Before tea, every guest was presented with a corsage bouquet of red carnations and maidenhair fern.

During the afternoon Mrs. Winters, on behalf of the juniors, gave a silver cake plate to the juniors and thanked them for a delightful afternoon. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and the national anthem brought the program to a close.

Quakers Hear Of Work in Seattle

Yesterday evening Victoria Friends, at the meeting house on Fern Street heard a splendid account of the work of the Friends' Centre among the students at the University of Washington.

Beatrice Shipley, who is in charge of the work, explained that the work has three phases: First, educational, explaining that since the early days of Quakerism, Quaker schools and colleges offered a special form of education. Now, when higher education requires such highly specialized courses, such a work as that of the Friends' Centre helps to round-out the education provided by the great universities.

Second, the Quaker way of life, with its opposition to war, its simplicity and integrity has a special appeal to thinking students. Third, the Quaker doctrine of the "Light Within," which for nearly 300 years has made Quakerism a power in the world, offers a solution to the present social and international life.

ROYAL OAK

The monthly meeting of Wilkeson Road Women's Auxiliary was held Tuesday afternoon at "Lockholme," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil McGillivray, Prospect Lake. Mrs. J. ## Beaux-Arts Is Praised In Festival

Betty Hetherington Scores Hit In Winnipeg Contest

WINNIPEG (CP)—Barrett H. Clark, adjudicating the Dominion Drama Festival here last night, congratulated the Canadian theatre for production of its first full-length play in Dominion-wide competition. The play was Robert Sherwood's "The Petrified Forest," enacted by the Ottawa Drama League.

"I think you will find that after a few years your more advanced and more progressive theatre groups will not be satisfied to present only short plays," Clark declared. "With several short plays it is just a bit difficult to shift your mood and not quite satisfying to the audience."

"Now that you have grown up, you will find more and more that you will tend to develop the longer plays."

BEAUX-ARTS PLAY

Clark said the inclusion of long and short plays in the festival made the task of the adjudicator more difficult. He contrasted the plays presented on opening night, "A Bite of the Apple," by the Yorkton Little Theatre; "Steel," by Toronto's Theatre of Action; and "Hands Across the Sea," by the Victoria Beaux-Arts Society.

The Yorkton group, he said, attempted something foreign to their experience.

"Personally, I would have preferred if they had played something that conceivably might have happened in this part of the world."

"Hands Across the Sea" was a fine example of Noel Coward's art. "I'm not one of the great admirers of Coward, but while the play was difficult to put over, it was a masterpiece, and that's a compliment to it. It was wholly professional in tone."

ACTRESS PRAISED

"There's no doubt this performance was slick and convincing. Mrs. E. W. Hetherington (as Piggle) was wholly convincing. She really had the show. The men were not up to the women, but that is usual in the amateur theatre."

"H. F. Hewett and Lella Harris (as Mr. and Mrs. Wadhurst, the visiting colonials) were amusing. Clare (played by Anne Piers) was distinctly good. She was the pleasantly dirty-minded young woman you would rather meet in a street play than on the stage. The setting was pleasant."

The Queen Alexandra Review, W.B.A., held a very enjoyable social evening on Monday at the A.O.F. Hall, following the business meeting at which the president, Mrs. Jean Bowden, was in the chair. Eleven tables of bridge were in play, the prizewinners being: First, Mrs. Smith; second, Mrs. M. Brown; third, Mrs. Winters, while the door prize was won by Miss Mary Deane. Dainty refreshments were served, bringing to a close a most successful evening.

Miss Marie Murphy was general convener, on behalf of the alumnae, and receiving with her were Mrs. F. M. Ryan, Mrs. J. H. Moore and Mrs. L. O'Leary. During the evening a novel Spanish turn was given by Mrs. Charles E. Wilson and Wynne Shaw and Phyllis Addison. Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. Stuart Kenning, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Kenning, Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Lucas, Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bassett, Dr. Mervyn Caverhill, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Sinclair, Dr. Thomas MacPherson, Dr. Holm, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Moore, Dr. and Mrs. George Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Leighton McKicking, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kersey, Mr. John W. ## BOILED BONE BROTH for little WENG FU!

... but Canadian Mothers give their children Cocomalt — the scientific food tonic

Far away in Inland China, there are children who never taste milk, and because other good foods are not plentiful, the children are in danger of not getting enough minerals. So the Chinese mothers in this district boil the little bones from pig's feet. From this broth or soup the children get the minerals they need for growth, health and strength. Half-way around the world from China there are Canadian children who, in spite of lots of milk and other well-known foods, are often in the same danger. They need extra supplies of minerals just as the Chinese children do...

Thanks to Cocomalt... there are thousands of children now enjoying happy health and growing up with strong, vigorous bodies and sound, white teeth. Cocomalt supplies minerals, Vitamin "D", and other nourishing vital food essentials lacking in many modern foods. Milk, for instance, has scarcely any Iron. Cocomalt has plenty. White bread and flour are decidedly low in Calcium and Phosphorus. There's ample in Cocomalt; and it also contains an abundance of energy-giving Carbohydrates and muscle-building Proteins.

For your children's health, strength, vitality and endurance serve Cocomalt. It is easy to prepare HOT or COLD. Get Cocomalt at your drug or grocery store. Available in purified, sealed, 1/2-lb., 1-lb. and the economical 5-lb. cans. For further important information concerning the value of Cocomalt write to Scott Balthage Co. Ltd., 1150 Hamilton Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

IT WAS A DECISION against the three-gaited grand champion, Roxy Highland, at a horse show several years ago that turned Herbert M. Woolf to the runner. The owner of Lawrin, 1938 Kentucky Derby winner, didn't like it. He decided to get in a sport where the world could see when a winner was first under the wire.

Herb Woolf showed horses for 20 years. He was the leading money winner for 10. He owned Belle LeRose, which bagged a $10,000 stake in Louisville three years ago. A business man first and always, he had considerable to do with increasing show prize money.

Woolf, who owns a string of fashionable midwestern department stores with headquarters in Kansas City, got a bargain basement colt in Lawrin. The colt's dam and sire stand at Woolford Farm in Johnson County, Kan., nine miles from Kansas City and a mile and a quarter west of the Missouri line. Lawrin, the L-a-w-r-i-n. The L-a-w comes from Margaret Lawrence. The -i-n from Insko. Woolf purchased Margaret Lawrence at auction for $2,700. He bought Insko in Lexington for $500.

In contrast, when C. V. Whitney disposed of his stable at Pimlico last fall, Willie du Pont paid the top price, $29,000, for Dauber, which chased Lawrin home in the big number in the Bluegrass. Lawrin has breeding, too. Margaret Lawrence is by Vulcan, which was by Rock Sand, which was by Dan Patch.

more good brood mares than almost any other sire. Authorities give the Rock Sand cross in Margaret Lawrence's blood lines much of the credit for Lawrin's ability.

Insko narrowly escaped being humanely destroyed long before he had a chance to send a son of Lawrin's capabilities to the races. Insko was purchased from the late Admiral Cary T. Grayson by Griffin Watkins, a shoe manufacturer of Alton, Ill., for $30,000. Lawrin's sire showed so much stuff that he had a chance of becoming the big money winner of his three-year-old year. Watkins paid him for $75,000.

Insko fell and fractured a bone in his ankle. Had he been a cheap horse he would have been destroyed. The insurance company called in veterinarians, however. It was decided to endeavor to save the horse's life. This brought weeks of suffering. Insko had to be bandaged and strapped to a pulley which hung from the roof of his stall. He had to hang in this uncomfortable position until the broken bone knitted and healed.

His racing days were over, but the insurance company saved the life of the horse which now has become the sire of a derby winner. Having the proper blood lines for a foundation for a stud farm, Herb Woolf continued his bargain basement plan by turning to the tank circuits for his trainer, the round and ruddy-faced Ben A. Jones. Jones quickly proved that he had wasted no small time the better part of the 30 years he has spent raising and training horses. It is the lifetime ambition of every turfman to breed his own derby winner. Few succeed. Joseph E. Widener has spent millions in racing, yet has been unable to produce a derby winner at his elaborate Lexington establishment. What Widener and many others couldn't do in years with the best money could buy, Herbert M. Woolf did in no time at all. . . with a broken-down sire and a trainer from the leaky roofs. That's the horse racing.

Young MacDonald Electric Softball Pitcher Blanks Cameron Lumber 4 to 0

Softball fans at Victoria West Park last night were treated to one of the greatest pitching exhibitions in many a season when Archie Byers, young MacDonald Electric pitching star, hurled no-hit ball for nine innings to pilot his team to a 4 to 0 shut-out over Cameron Lumber Company as the senior A company race entered its second week.

Byers looked like the perfect champion as he stood on the mound and delivered slants that baffled one score and 10 batters who paraded to the plate. Only four managed to reach first base. In seven of the nine innings Byers retired the lumbermen in order. In the second and sixth frames, four and five batters, respectively, took their turns.

But, while Byers was dusting off the millhands with deadly precision, Rosy McLellan, the opposing twirler, was also pitching a good ball game. The electricians managed to get to him for five safeties, a trio of which went for extra bases.

KING HITS TRIPLE
For eight innings both sides were held scoreless, but in the first of the final frame the MacDonalds, largely through Cy King's triple, rang up four tallies to win the ball game. The bags filled to capacity when King tripled to the plate and blasted out a three-bagger. That cleared the bags and he came home later on a passed ball.

Score by innings:
Macdonald Elec. . . 000 000 004-4
Cameron Lumber . . 000 000 000-0
Batteries — Byers and Gray; McLellan and Harris.

STEVEDORES WIN

At the Athletic Park the Victoria Longshoremen traveled four sessions with Hollywood Club to more markers before the game closed to register a 6 to 1 victory. This placed the stevedores, club men, electricians and cameramen in a four-way tie for the second berth.

With the sacks loaded, Maurice Constable, Longshoremen's third baseman, drove in three runs in the fifth when his drive took a bad bounce in front of shortstop Hornsby and went for two bases. The freight jugglers added a brace of runs in the eighth to complete their score.

Good ball was hurled by Bill Tesky, husky 220-pound V.L.A. mound ace. He breezed 13 and was picked for eight bingles.

Score by innings:
Hollywood Club . . 100 000 000-1
V.L.A. . . . . 000 130 028-6
Batteries — A. McBride and Berry; Tesky and Dunnett.

SAANICH LEADERS

Saanich Construction softballers rocketed into the leadership berth when they slammed the offerings of George Glendenning, Burns & Co. pitcher, all over the lot to pull out with a 17 to 9 verdict at Bullen Park.

Going into the first half of the ninth the teams were in a 9 to 9 clinch, but in this session the suburbanites brought their heavy guns into action and sent eight runners the distance before the Burns boys were able to halt the wild stampede.

Score by innings:
Saanich Cons. . . 300 330 008-17
Burns & Co. . . 100 130 130-9
Batteries — Booth and Paine; Glendenning and Caddell.

CRACK RACE PILOTS HERE

Field of American Drivers For Auto Race Meet Saturday Announced

Five of the hottest drivers and cars in the Pacific Northwest will come to Victoria Saturday for the automobile racing card to be staged at the Langford Speedway in the evening, starting with the time trials at 7.45.

Jack Taylor, track manager, announced today he had received word from Seattle the following drivers and cars will be over for the local meet: No. 74, from Yakima, with Jack Spaulding driving; No. 5, from Salem, Oregon, with Tony West at the wheel; No. 10, Eckhardt Special, with Elmer Seitterman driving; No. 8, Bill Blair Special from Seattle, with Bert Boomgren driving; No. 26, from Seattle, with Lew McMurty driving.

The first four mentioned cars are all reckoned in class A and are capable of turning up a terrific pace. West and Boomgren are the pilots who have been making it plenty tough for the other boys in meets at Portland recently.

With seven local cars to complete the field Taylor said today he is looking forward to one of the finest meets in the history of the local track.

FISHMEN IN LOOP LEAD

New Westminster Defeats North Shore Indians 21 to 11 in Boxla Game

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. — The champion New Westminster Salmonbellies today rested on top of the Inter-city Box Lacrosse League after a convincing victory here last night over the revamped North Shore Indians.

Diminutive Alfie Davey paved the way for the fishermen as they downed the redmen 21 to 11 after leading the way in every period. Salmonbellies held the tribesmen scoreless in the first period and led 7 to 3 at the half. New Westminster bagged eight more goals in the third period to the Indians' five and outscored the North Shore tribe 6 to 3 in the final period to clinch the game.

Alfie Davey, however, did not assist to lead the Salmonbellies' marksmen. He was followed by young Ken Fetherston, who netted five goals. Chubby Smith was top man for the Indians with five goals.

RECORD ENTRY IN U.S. GOLF

NEW YORK — One of the largest entry lists in the history of the United States open golf championship was assured for this year's tournament when the United States Golf Association estimated that 1,160 had been received when the deadline fell late yesterday.

Since the 1938 championship, to be played June 9 to 11 at the Cherry Hills Club near Denver, is being staged farther west than ever before, the U.S.G.A. had counted on a substantial drop from last year's record entry of 1,402. The drop, however, was by no means so large as had been expected.

Pending a final check-up, it already is definite that this year's figure will be either the third or fourth largest on the U.S.G.A. books. In addition to last year's, top figures in the past were: 1936, 1,277; 1930, 1,177; 1931, 1,141; 1935, 1,125.

Canadian Track Star in Court

TORONTO (CP) — Sam Richardson, 18, former British Empire Games and Olympic athlete, pleaded guilty Tuesday to two charges of housebreaking. A companion, Vernon Escos, also pleaded guilty and the two were remanded a week for sentence.

Richardson, colored, was 15 when he won the British Empire Games broad-jump title at London in 1934.

WATT TO RETIRE

MONTREAL — So far as serious play is concerned, Canada's fourth-ranking tennis performer, bespectacled Laird Watt, will hang up his racquet at the end of the current season, the 24-year-old Davis Cup team member announced today. He will devote his time to business.

Jimmy Hines Golf Winner

Steady rain which drenched umbrella-carrying onlookers, didn't keep Jimmy Hines, Lakeview, N.Y., golfing pro shown driving off in downpour, from winning the metropolitan open golf championship for the second year in succession, with a total score of 287 for 72 holes. He led his nearest competitor, Sam Snead, by three strokes.

Brilliant Mound Work In National

Four Flingers Allow Four Hits or Less; Giants Beat Cubs in 12th

The National Leaguers finally have that new ball that was intended to give the pitchers so much help this season. The results of yesterday's games indicate the pitchers certainly had something. Maybe it was that help.

Four games in the senior circuit produced the following: Two one-hitters, one three and one four-hit hurling job, and some plain and fancy elbowing in the day's major contest, a 12-inning duel between the league-leading New York Giants and the challenging Chicago Cubs.

Although six flingers toiled for the two games before Sam Leslie's pinch single in the 12th broke up the ball game and gave the Giants a 6 to 5 triumph, still it was a well-pitched game.

Cliff Melton of the Giants avoided trouble except when Joe Marty parked a homer in the stands with two on base in the sixth and tied the score. Clay Bryant took Tex Carleton's place for the Cubs and granted only six hits in 11 1/3 innings. Four were bunched for two runs in the fifth.

BRILLIANT RESCUE

Melton tired and loaded the sacks with none out in the 12th but Dick Coffman, peer of relief pitchers, staged a successful rescue.

The one-hit pitching feats came from Russ Bauers of Pittsburgh, who lost his to Boston Bees, 1 to 0, and Bill McGee of St. Louis Cardinals, who beat Brooklyn, 2 to 1.

Bauers took his place right behind the five pitchers in big league history who have pitched no-hit games for nine innings or more and lost them when a wild peg followed the only hit he granted and resulted in Boston's lone run. That was in the first inning. Elbie Fletcher led off with a walk. Debs Garms shot a single to centre and when Lloyd Waner threw toward third, the ball bounced off Fletcher's back, allowing the runner to score. For the Bees Milt Shoffner pitched three-hit ball and escaped all trouble.

Goody Rosen, the Toronto lad who spoiled a no-hitter for Hal Schumacher earlier in the year, made the only Dodger hit off McGee and the usually reliable Joe Medwick was so surprised he let the ball roll past and Rosen came home. McGee, who fanned nine, also made two of the Cards' hits off Luke Hamlin and figured in the scoring of both runs.

Paul Derringer pitched Cincinnati's Reds to a 13 to 1 victory, limiting the Phillies to four blows while his mates collected 35%.

Schmeling In Training Camp

German Heavyweight Starts Preparations For Bout With Louis June 22

SPECULATOR, N.Y. — Max Schmeling, who trained here last May for a fight that didn't take place, got down to work today to prepare himself for one that will. Scheduled to meet heavyweight champion Joe Louis in New York June 22, Schmeling last roamed the Adirondack countryside while training for the "phantom fight" with former champion James J. Braddock last spring.

Then, only the smallest of crowds came to watch a fighter who had no one to fight. Today, however, it was different. After a "stirring" welcome when he left his train in Amsterdam, the Teuton found well-wishers on all sides.

"I'll beat that Louis again," he smilingly told all comers as they sought to shake his hand en route to the 11-room hunting lodge he will share with Max Machon, his trainer, and Joe Jacobs, his United States manager.

"You bet," agreed Jacobs, who called the Amsterdam reception of some 5,000 persons a "stirring welcome."

"But don't ask us to call the round. Rounds don't matter. It's just doing the job that counts—a job like Max did on Louis the last time."

Record Attempt Listed May 24

An attempt for a dirt-track motor-paced bicycle speed record will be made by Claude "Rusty" Baden, during the big sports meet at the Willows on May 24. Alderman W. H. Davies, celebration committee chairman, announced today.

The hardriding cousin of Torchy and Doug has volunteered to try for a mark behind a car on the track and arrangements were being made to conduct the test, Alderman Davies said.

BOXLA OPENS HERE TONIGHT

James Bay and Conservatives to Battle at Athletic Park

Young stickhandlers will usher in the 1938 box lacrosse season this evening at the Athletic Park when James Bay and Conservatives clash at 6.15. Popham and Menzies will referee the match.

According to reports these two clubs have welded together strong squads and should provide an interesting battle for the opener. Both squads have been through stiff workouts during the recent weeks and are in excellent condition.

There will be no admission charge, but a collection will be taken to defray expenses.

Teams follow:

Made Trip To Peg On Rods

Joe Ashenbrenner, Vancouver, Lifts Middleweight Title By Knockout

WINNIPEG — Two punching powerhouses representing the east and west lifted most of the glory as Canada's 1938 amateur boxing championships became history today.

Swarthy Gordon Schmaltz, Kitchener, Ont., welterweight, and Vancouver's middleweight, Joe Ashenbrenner, rode to national titles on lethal right-hand punches. They were the big guns of a 16-fight program that named eight Dominion champions last night.

Veteran of 209 bouts, the German-bred Schmaltz defended his welterweight crown with a smashing attack. Satisfying the action-seeking 2,400 spectators in attendance, he polished off George Nyberg of Port Arthur in two rounds after being awarded a technical knockout over Winnipeg's Alex. Lindsay in a semifinal bout.

No less prominent was the slugging Ashenbrenner, who came to the tournament from Vancouver on freight trains. He pounded Paul Rickey of Winnipeg to a pulp before awarded a technical knockout late in the third round, to earn a final berth. He was given a stern argument for two rounds by Jack Cummings of Winnipeg in the championship bracket but his devastating right hand turned the tide in his favour in the third.

Schmaltz and Little Freddie Ward of Hamilton, Ont., took the only titles that were east of Lake Superior. Ward, a 14-year-old haired boy, outpointed Paul Stuart of Montreal in the flyweight final.

Ontario claimed supremacy among the big fellows. Dick Syms of Fort William captured the heavyweight crown, while Andy Miller, handsome Kenora, Ont., taxi driver, topped the lightweight division.

Three boxers put the prairies into the championship group. Billy Brade and Tony Roberts, both of Winnipeg, earned the featherweight and bantamweight crowns respectively and Regina's hard-hitting Frankie Williams reached the lightweight peak.

Possibly the biggest upset came with the defeat of the British Empire Games representative, Joyce Gagnon of Montreal. Champion last year in the flyweight class, the little Frenchman was cleanly outpointed by Roberts.

Williams, Saskatchewan's lone champion, won a savage semifinal lightweight bout from Pete Phillips, a Detroit glove champion from Windsor, Ont. Both boys swung from the heels with power-packed punches and Phillips' features were blood-spattered from cuts on the cheek and nose at the finish. In the final bracket, the southpaw Williams took exactly one minute to flatten Harry Zillman of Winnipeg.

In the cruiser-weight class Kenora's Andy Miller packed too many guns for Bob Kelly of Winnipeg, whom he stopped after 2:20 of the second round. Dick Syms took a dull heavyweight final from 227-pound Leonard Shaefer of Osage, Sask.

ASTRONOMERS' OBSERVATIONS

Dr. W. E. Harper Writes On 917 Stars of Hydrogen Class

The results of the investigations of the astronomers at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory are issued from time to time as completed. Six complete volumes of about 350 pages each of quarto size have already been issued. The first two numbers of Vol. VII have just been received from the printer and were mailed yesterday to the observatories and universities on the regular mailing list.

The first number is a rather lengthy one of 97 pages by Dr. W. E. Harper containing his determinations of the radial velocities of 917 stars of the so-called hydrogen class. The spectrum plates for this extensive work have been secured with the big telescope over the past 15 years. For about half of these stars nothing was previously known as to their line-of-sight velocities and this additional data is very valuable in statistical studies of the general motions of the stars.

The second number is a small one by W. E. Harper and G. H. Blanchet which discusses the orbit of the three-body system of the star numbered 5472 in the Draper Catalogue. This star, whose intrinsic brightness is about 10 times that of our sun, consists of two components relatively close to each other and revolving about each other in a period of 101.56 days. The pair in turn is swayed by a more massive star about which the pair make a complete revolution in approximately 3,320 days.

U.B.C. TRIES TO PAY DIVIDENDS

The students of the University of British Columbia are sincerely trying to produce dividends for the investment of the people of the province have made in it. David Carey, president of the university's alma mater society, told the Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

Mr. Carey was chosen last year as a Rhodes Scholar, and was captain of the university's McKechnie Cup rugby team last season. The chief problems which the institution was facing were overcrowding and a lack of appreciation of its work on the part of the people of the province, he said.

As proof that the students were real, Mr. Carey told the club that last year the General Electric Company, needing 11 men for research work, had chosen the entire U.B.C. graduating class of nine and had left only two vacancies to be filled from the rest of Canada. He also said that the university had won the largest proportion of scholarships presented by the Canadian Research Council, exceeding McGill by a comfortable margin.

As evidence of overcrowding he quoted one laboratory with 13 places, eight of which were permanently occupied by graduates doing research work, leaving five places for 25 students, and the cramming of 79 bacteriology students into a room designed for 31. Mr. Carey was introduced by president J. G. MacFarlane and thanked by George Saul.

Plans Drawn For Work in Interior

The provincial architect's branch this week completed plans for a new hospital for the Sisters of St. Joseph at Rossland. The structure, costing approximately $80,000, will have 38 beds. It is a private undertaking, without cost to the government.

Architects are also working on plans for a two-story structure for the Central Junior High School, which will have an overall cost of about $85,000. The government will contribute 40 per cent of the building costs.

Plans were finished this week for a small two-room addition to a school at Princeton.

Work Asked On Shawnigan Road

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—At the monthly meeting of Malahat Board of Trade, with H. E. Hawking, president, in the chair, the board decided to press for improvement of the Shawnigan Lake cutoff. To prevent flooding of the lake in winter the Dominion government will be urged to improve the lake outlet to Mill Stream to carry off the excess water.

The following delegates were appointed to attend the Vancouver Island Associated Board of Trade meeting at Courtenay: H. E. Hawking, F. M. Gammon, H. P. Smith, W. E. Fraser, C. M. Robertson and W. Mudge. A resolution will be presented dealing with the Oriental question.

CAMPAIGN IN SAANICH QUIET

Little Argument as Candidates Address Wards One and Three Meetings

The Saanich School Board by-election campaign moved into its second night last night as the six candidates running for two vacancies on the board addressed two meetings at Gordon Head and Mount Tolmie.

Both meetings were attended by about 25 persons and there little controversy entered into the discussions compared with the opening meeting in Ward Four on Monday night.

At the Ward Three meeting at Gordon Head A. W. Riley was the chairman and at Ward One, Fred Borden presided.

COUNCILLOR WARREN
Councillor E. C. Warren denied the Saanich Board of Trade had had any major influence in his announcing his candidature. The board of trade had merely shown an interest in municipal affairs and come to the council with its request to have two councillors run in the election. There had been nothing dictatorial in the board of trade's approach to the council as had been suggested by some candidates.

If elected, he promised an inquiry into the dismissal of Robert Brydon. If he found the dismissal was without just cause he promised to do everything he could toward reinstatement of Mr. Brydon and if he found otherwise he would be willing to lend every co-operation to the sitting members.

W. A. KETTLE

William A. Kettle opposed the idea of councillors holding dual positions. As far as having experience was concerned, Mr. Kettle said he did not want the type of experience that would make him resign over a contentious issue. "Nobody would ever force me to resign," he said. Common sense, he argued, was as good an experience as any and he felt his personal ability was quite sufficient to qualify him for school administration.

BOB SHANKS
Richard G. (Bob) Shanks said he had been long interested in school affairs and he felt that all young men should take an interest in administration of public affairs.

The result of the last general election had indicated a public desire for new blood on the school board and Mr. Shanks said he had taken this as a signal to enter the field.

He had successfully operated his own small business and felt this executive experience he had gained in this manner was sufficient to justify his candidature.

COUNCILLOR PASSMORE

Councillor Leslie H. Passmore denied the allegations of other candidates that there was any attempt being made by the council to dictate the policies of the school board. He believed the councillors would act as a stabilizing influence on the trustees. He felt there could be an interchange of ideas among councillors and school trustees and emphasized that even if both councillors were elected they would constitute a minority of the board and could not, therefore, attempt the dictation of any policies.

J. W. HIGHAM

Promotion of welfare and efficiency of the schools was the platform of J. W. Higham. He advocated a policy that would make the children responsible citizens of the community. He opposed any interference by the council in school board matters and pointed out that the school board was independent of the council and acted in the government's behalf.

W. J. LYNN

W. J. Lynn devoted his address chiefly to criticism of the council's stand in having two members run for the school board, describing it as the thin edge of the wedge towards dictatorship. "The issue of the election was whether or not the people would stand for the holding of dual positions, which he strongly opposed. He charged that the Saanich Board of Trade was only interested in education to the extent of dodging the cost of educating the rising generation and yet it was trying to set the policy of the school board in asking two councillors to run.

Bombing Planes For New Zealand

WELLINGTON (CP-Havas)—The New Zealand government Thursday ordered 30 Victoria bi-motored bombing planes at a cost of $75,000 ($375,000). It was announced a total of 9,000 in footmen will be placed in motorized regiments.

Grants Made By Nanaimo Council

NANAIMO—At a city council meeting Monday the following grants were approved: Salvation Army, $100; Up-Island Publicity Bureau, $120; St. Ann's Convent, $357.60.

Salary cuts of civic employees cannot be restored at the present time, but if the budget shows a surplus in September, further consideration will be given the matter.

The committee could not see that the council should recognize financially the public health work of George Darling, analyst at Nanaimo Hospital, maintaining it was a question for the Provincial Board of Health.

The Crescent Canadian Shows were granted a license to operate here from June 6 to 11, on the Ravine Grounds.

NEED $60,000 FOR AIRPORT

Licensing Specifications For Gordon Head Field Relaxed, Committee Told

Victoria's civic airport committee, including the aldermanic group and Chamber of Commerce representatives, believe that a licensed field could be established at Gordon Head at a price roundly figured at $60,000. A meeting of the committee was held in the City Hall yesterday afternoon.

As the next step in negotiations towards securing the airport, members instructed the secretary to write the Department of Transport to determine whether or not the federal government would pay one-third of the costs of the project as outlined in plans submitted to the meeting. Another communication will go forward to P. Treanor, owner of 66 acres required for the field, stating the undertaking was considered feasible if he would sell his holdings there for $12,500.

Alderman Archie Wills, chairman of the meeting, reported on activities since the preceding meeting. He spoke of interviews with R. W. Mayhew, M.P., prior to the meeting, and also referred to discussions with Mr. Treanor, during which he had quoted prices for his property.

COULD SECURE LICENSE

Carter Guest, director of Civil Aviation in British Columbia, had indicated the willingness of the federal department to grant a temporary license for the Gordon Head field, subject to its development along lines submitted in a plan drawn up by J. R. Robertson, Regina, district inspector for western Canada.

At the preceding meeting, Alderman Wills stated, it had appeared the airport project would be one calling for expenditure of $250,000, a figure he considered beyond the reach of Victoria. Revised plans, which would permit construction of two turf runways of 2,200 feet, instead of the two 5,000-foot hard-surfaced runways, had brought the scheme within the realms of possibility, he felt.

Such a field would provide facilities for lighter planes, and would be adequate for those of greater size, provided the latter were not fully loaded.

Alderman Wills remarked upon the expressed desire of S. J. Hungerford, president of the C.N.R., to see the terminus for Trans-Canada established on the lower island. It was possible Sidney would be the emergency landing field for that service, he said.

Ernest Eve, reiterating earlier remarks regarding the relaxation of specifications, believed $18,000 would be sufficient to purchase the required property.

ANXIOUS OVER GRANT

Question was raised over the contribution by the federal government of one-third of the costs of the project.

Copies of letters to Mr. Mayhew requesting his assistance in securing that grant would be forwarded to Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt with an invitation to those municipalities to co-operate in measures towards development of the airport, the meeting decided.

Attending the meeting were Aldermen Wills, B. J. Gadsden, S. H. Okell, James Adam and W. H. Davies, representing the City Council; President Duncan MacBride, R. D. Harvey, Tom Watkins, J. H. Beatty, Capt. N. Foster and Cecil Eve of the Chamber of Commerce, and Robert Fox of the Victoria Aero Club.

STUDY GIVEN SEWAGE ISSUE

City and Saanich Representatives Join Provincial Officials on Inspection

Members of the city's health and public works committees today joined representatives of Saanich and provincial government officials in a tour of districts from which have come complaints over sewage conditions.

Included in the party were: Col. E. Pepler, deputy attorney-general; E. H. Bridgman, deputy minister of the department of municipal affairs; Dr. J. S. Cull, of the provincial health office; Aldermen J. A. Worthington, Ed. Williams, B. J. Gadsden and W. H. Davies; T. E. Lancaster, city sanitary engineer; E. Gropp, his assistant; Dr. Richard Felton, medical health officer; and Reeve Wm. Crouch; Municipal Clerk R. F. Sewell and Municipal Engineer H. Allen of Saanich.

The Saanich delegates inspected one of the plants operating in Victoria where, it was charged, sewage was flowing into the water.

The party also visited the C.N.R. property near the Victoria boundary in Saanich, to Burnside Road, North Dairy Road and the Gorge.

Col. Pepler and Mr. Bridgman stated they would give consideration to the results of the inspection and communicate later with the city and Saanich officials.

Vital Need Is Lecture Theme

Domination British-Israel Commissioner Addresses Crowded Audience

On Tuesday night in the First Baptist Church, the Rev. E. J. Springett, Dominion Commissioner of the British-Israel World Federation, addressed a crowded audience on "The Vital Need of Religion."

Referring to Acts 11, 37, Mr. Springett said that the question how, as then, is "What shall we do?"

"There is no help in any other name or in any other source than in Jesus Christ, Our Lord. Because of the failure of organized religion to preach the whole gospel, that of salvation and of the kingdom, there are more pagans in the world than ever, and with doubt thrown on the Bible as the inspired word of God, it is to be wondered that there is chaos in the world," said Mr. Springett. Mr. Springett also read passages from the brief presented to the Russell Commission by the British-Israel Federation, and said that the basic statements in the brief were taken entirely from the Bible.

"The vital need of today is the removal of national blindness," he said. "We must awake to the knowledge of who we are and whose we are, a nation chosen by God to spread the gospel of salvation and the gospel of the Kingdom of God on earth."

"We have got to accept Christ and His sacrifice, and go out into the world to do God's service and help to bring in a new world order which shall be the Kingdom of God on earth."

On a three weeks' inspection tour of mining operations in the northern part of the province, Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Mines, will leave Victoria May 30. He will go by boat to Prince Rupert, then to Stewart, and into the interior through the Omineca and Cariboo districts and back to Bridge River.

TOWN TOPICS

Two motorists were fined $2.50 each in the City Police Court this morning on parking charges and a third was fined $5 for failing to have a driver's license.

C. H. Tupper, M.P.P. for Similkameen, is visiting Victoria today to attend a meeting of the directors of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway which will be held tomorrow at the Legislative Buildings.

The executive of the Inter-denominational Young People's Union announce that a meeting of delegates from the young people's societies will be held in the Y.W.C.A. on Thursday evening at 7.30.

The city welfare relief department is appealing for a double mattress and a wringer for a couple trying to establish themselves in a little home. Anyone having such articles to donate is requested to telephone G 8104.

Thieves who attempted to enter Master's Bakery, 1729 Cook Street, last night, were apparently disturbed and left before actually entering the building, according to a police report. A rear window was found broken open and a ladder placed against it, but there was no indication of entry.

Purchase by the provincial government of a house and lot at 558 Michigan Street will be ratified by order-in-council this week. Hon. F. M. Macpherson, Minister of Public Works, said the government was buying the property from Mrs. Annie M. Wilson for $3,000 to round out its holdings on the south side of Superior Street. "There are no immediate plans for development, although this may eventually be the site for new government buildings."

At a joint meeting of Ward 4 and Ward 5 Conservatives, held at the Headquarters, Campbell Building, last evening the Oriental question, the coming national convention of the Conservative Party at Ottawa, unemployment insurance and campaign expenditures were subjects under discussion. No resolutions were presented but it was announced that a motion concerning the Oriental problem would be submitted at a future meeting and, if passed, be sent to the central executive.

Part of the prosecution evidence was taken in the City Police Court this morning on a charge of driving to the common danger against D'Arcy Martin. The charge was the result of an accident at corner of Fernwood Road and Pandora Avenue, in which cars driven by Mr. Martin and Leonard Allen were involved. Constable Charles Webb this morning produced a plan of the scene, which was admitted for reference purposes. The case was remanded until Monday at the request of Carew Martin, defence counsel.

APPROVE NEW "Y" SECRETARY

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Y.M.C.A. last evening, an endorsement of the appointment of Judge R. S. Hosking of the Family Relations Court, Toronto, as national Y.M.C.A. secretary, was dispatched by telegram. Judge Hosking will succeed Dr. E. M. Best who was recently appointed president of Springfield College.

During the meeting several local reports were read. In a general report presented by Frank Paulding, it was announced that during the last three months, 6,544 mimeographed sheets had been used from 51 different stencils. Mr. Paulding's

MANY ARRIVE FROM ABROAD

Shanghai Woman Travel Agent Is Interesting Visitor to Victoria Today

People from distant parts of the world registered at the Empress Hotel this morning, pausing for a few days amid the beauties of Victoria before continuing their long ocean and overland journeys.

Virginia Smith Cowper, travel agent of Shanghai, arrived on the Empress of Canada this morning, third class, as a refugee. She lost her money and property in the bombardment of Nanking Road, but she had not lost her interest in life and is going to San Francisco to make plans to return to China.

A personal friend of Kathleen Norris, with whom she marched in the first women's suffrage parade in New York City, Miss Cowper has booked many prominent people on trips through China. They include J. P. McEvoy, contributor to the Saturday Evening Post; Fulton Oursler, editor-in-chief of Liberty Magazine, and, just before she left Shanghai, she booked Sir Victor Sassoon on a trip by airplane around the world.

Miss Ruth Parks of Tulsa, Oklahoma, arrived at the hotel carrying in her arms an eight months' old spider monkey which she acquired in Shanghai.

Others who went to the Empress Hotel from the inbound liner were H. Pope of Rangoon and Mrs. Clara Kenyon. A number of the ship's passengers went there for luncheon before boarding the afternoon steamer for Seattle.

Also on the hotel's register today were Col. E. J. Ryan, M. J. Sweeney, Herbert Fullerton, G. H. Nowell, F. S. Seffern, Charles R. Brown, F. H. Clendenning, Mrs. T. G. S. Chambers, Capt. E. Aikman, all of Vancouver; W. Groundwater of the Union Oil Company of Los Angeles, who flew to Victoria when he heard his company's ship Santa Maria was ashore off Victoria; J. H. and A. J. Hofson of Cape Town, South Africa; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stinson and Thomas W. Skinner of Seattle; Dr. and Mrs. George Bakke of Piedmont, California; Mr. and Mrs. George S. Rickert of Spokane; Mrs. L. ## PASSES AWAY IN 100TH YEAR

Late Chas. J. L. Nelson, Mt. Tolmie, Voted Before Confederation

Within a few months of his 100th birthday, Charles J. L. Nelson of Mount Tolmie, one of the last surviving veterans of the Fenian Raid, passed away yesterday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. He had enjoyed good health until a short time ago, despite his great age.

Born in Morpeth, Ontario, in September, 1838, Mr. Nelson was the son of Captain Nelson, who at one time was the private secretary of Colonel Talbot, Dominion land surveyor during the early days of Canada. Mr. Nelson was employed by the Dominion Government in eastern Canada for many years.

He was one of the few remaining pioneers who voted before the time of Confederation. Mr. Nelson came to British Columbia 33 years ago and had resided in Victoria for 35 years. He was an ardent sportsman during his younger days, being especially fond of horses.

There survive three daughters, Mrs. G. H. D. Chivers, Mrs. M. V. Kirkham and Mrs. G. H. Deane, all of Victoria; four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren, also of this city.

Funeral services will be held at Sands Mortuary Ltd. tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Canon F. P. Chadwick will officiate and interment will be in the family plot at Royal Oak Burial Park.

Elderly Woman Is Found Dead

Mrs. John Watson, an elderly woman who lived alone at 1924 Davie Street, was found dead on the floor of her bedroom this morning after neighbors reported to police she had not been seen for three days.

Inspector J. T. Boulton attended the call from police headquarters and found Mrs. Watson on the bedroom floor. Death was apparently due to natural causes and was assumed to have occurred a day or two ago. A daughter, Mrs. Violet M. Hossie, Shaanavon, Sask., was notified by police.

The body was removed to the B.C. Funeral Parlors.

Would Preserve Timber Stand

DUNCAN—Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, addressing a meeting here last night under the auspices of the Duncan Chamber of Commerce, said there was no reason why the Canadian Pacific Railway should not give back to the people of British Columbia or exchange for other lands the timber stand at Cathedral Grove, Cameron Lake, without it costing the provincial treasury a cent.

Mr. Gray said he had told D. C. Coleman of the C.P.R. that if he was not interested in preserving Cathedral Grove he might just as well figure on taking the C.P.R. boats off the island run and closing the Empress Hotel, because this type of timber scenery had an enormous tourist value. If the timber were not reserved the C.P.R. would eventually be taking up its rails on the island, he said.

The minister assured the meeting that he had hopes of a definite reserve on Cathedral Grove, adding that the government would get plenty of warning before any attempt was made to cut the timber.

Mr. Gray said that since he was Minister of Lands more park areas had been reserved than in all the time previously.

Several members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce attended the meeting, which in-

CITY'S RELIEF SHARE MOUNTS

Victoria Pays 64 Per Cent of Costs For Care of Jobless During April

The city's share of relief costs last month stood approximately 64 per cent of the grand total of April, while in 1937, prior to the introduction of new regulations regarding unemployables, the city was required to pay only about 27 per cent, according to figures released today by the relief office.

While the gross for April fell from $27,959.17 last year to $18,195.63 last month, the city's share increased from $7,742.54 to $11,733.43.

Family units were granted $12,829.44 last month against $13,710.71 in March and $21,941.61 in April 1937. Single jobless were allowed $5,366.19 for April, 1938, against $5,772.62 for March of this year and $6,017.56 for April last year.

While the costs to the city continued on the up trend, the government's share of allowances distributed in Victoria was only $6,462.20 in April against $20,216.63 for the same month in 1937.

The change in payment by the city and the government was indicative of the increase in the charges against Victoria for direct city cases. In April last year those cases represented an expenditure of only $2,569.08 against last month's $9,832.10.

Slight Cut In Unemployables

Results of the arbitration action being taken by J. H. McVety, superintendent for British Columbia of the Unemployment Service of Canada, over disputed cases ruled unemployable under the new government regulations have, to date, taken only 10 cases from the list of those classified as unemployable.

Consideration of further cases was scheduled today at the relief office. Thirteen married cases were scheduled to be reviewed before the 90 single and 56 female charges are considered.

Nine only of 52 married men listed as unemployable were taken from the unemployable section. The city had previously abandoned 89 other protested cases when informed of the government decision to stand by its classification, which lists a person as unemployable unless he or she has been employed at least one month in a year by a private employer.

Three only of 59 female cases have been considered. Of those, one was taken from the category of unemployable.

SELECT SITE FOR BONFIRE

A May 24 bonfire will be staged on the territory immediately in front of the parking site on the Beacon Hill waterfront adjacent to Horse Shoe Bay, provided the parks committee is agreeable. Alderman W. H. Davies, celebration committee chairman, inspected the territory today and came back with that recommendation to the parks group.

If the same committee approves of the plan, the fireworks will be set off from the pavilion and the band will play just below it. Community singing will be conducted around the bonfire.

cluded sportsmen and those interested in forestry.

E. C. Manning, chief forester, showed lantern slides and gave a talk on the logged lands of the Cowichan area. He explained the new forest protection legislation passed at the last session of the House.

Questioned by sportsmen as to the effect of slash turning in the springtime on birds and other wild life, Mr. Manning said it was not the policy of the branch to have slash burned in the spring, except in emergency conditions. He agreed that the interests of sportsmen and foresters were identical in this respect, and accepted the view that it was dangerous to birds and deer with their young.

PEOPLE MUST DEFEND RIGHTS

Wootton Sees Need For United Canada Now

Canadians must stand in defence of their democratic rights, or they may lose them, said Robert A. Wootton, speaking to Saanich Young Conservative Association at St. Mark's Hall last night.

Mr. Wootton was discussing the need for a united Canada, suggesting delegates from all over the Dominion should meet to discuss national problems.

Canada, he said, must stand together in the spirit intended by the Fathers of Confederation. Without unity she could not survive as a nation.

Mr. Wootton attacked government commissions as extravagant and "back-passing" bottles, and said capital in Canada needed confidence so it could go to work and provide jobs for unemployed.

Other speakers were W. Rawson, Victoria Young Conservative Association; Percy Mickleburgh, Saanich Conservative Association; Frank Montgomery, Young Citizens' League; Lucien Vaast, Relief Project Workers' Union, and Ted Robertson, Victoria Youth Council.

COAST LEAGUE Seattle moved from seventh into fifth place in the Coast Baseball League today thanks to a pitching juvenile whose father wouldn't let him go to the major leagues because "the terms weren't right."

For the fifth straight time Freddie Hutchinson, 18, and fresh out of high school, cut down the opposition. Last night he limited Los Angeles to four hits, two of them in the ninth inning, as Seattle won, 4 to 2.

Another fine pitching performance in games last night was turned in by Bob Joyce of Oakland in beating San Diego 1 to 0.

A home run in the 13th inning by George Dickey with two teammates on base gave the league-leading Portland Beavers a 5 to 2 win over San Francisco Seals. Two hits, a sacrifice and a walk gave Hankwood a run in the sixth inning to blank Sacramento 1 to 0.

Vancouver Police Ask E. Buchanan From Kentucky For Trial

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver police said today they had launched extradition proceedings intended to bring Edward Buchanan here from Lexington, Ky., to face trial on a charge he defrauded a Vancouver Island man of $60,000 three years ago.

Name of the confidence game victim was not disclosed. Police said Buchanan, recently released from prison in Kentucky, was being held at Lexington pending an extradition hearing.

City police said that for three years they had been attempting to locate members of the "gang" which defrauded the Vancouver Island man. They said the confidence game started in Victoria, but that the money actually was taken while the gang was in Vancouver.

Candidates Backed By Lewis Overwhelmed In Pennsylvania Primaries

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Democratic state committee candidates smashed a slate backed by Labor Leader John L. Lewis and Senator Joseph F. Guffey in Pennsylvania's primary and looked today for some avenue to peace in the bitter factional strife.

Returns from 6,344 of the state's 8,075 precincts in yesterday's voting assured victory to Governor George H. Earle for the Democratic senatorial nomination and to Pittsburgh's Charles Alvin Jones for the nomination for governor.

Down before committee-endorsed Jones, despite a primary-eve endorsement by Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley, went Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy. He was supported by Lewis, Guffey and Committee for Industrial Organization—as was Mayor S. Davis Wilson of Philadelphia, overwhelmed by Governor Earle.

Certain leaders of the triumphant state committee, which is headed by Secretary of the Commonwealth David L. Lawrence, were said in unconfirmed reports to be considering asking President Roosevelt's mediation in the party row that split an organization which in 1934 pushed Earle into office as the first Pennsylvania Democratic governor in 44 years.

NEW DEAL FOUGHT

Meanwhile, Republicans, who nominated Superior Court Judge Arthur H. James for governor by a margin of landslide proportions over former Governor Gifford Pinchot, raised an anti-New Deal battle cry and hailed the wounds opened in the Democratic lines as presaging a Republican return to state power in November.

What assistance was necessary for the various provinces to maintain a reasonably uniform standard of service should be given according to need and the principle applied in the case of old age pensions, administration remaining with the provinces, the government suggested.

CO-OPERATION

The government submitted closer co-operation between provinces and Dominion would do much to reconcile conflicting views and eliminate "arms length" procedure in Dominion-provincial relations. To that end it suggested a department of state for the provinces at Ottawa and departments of federal relations in the provinces.

A system of "regional tariffs" was recommended as one means of preserving the province's industries against the claimed tendency of the national tariff policy to centralize industry in Ontario and Quebec. However, reduction in freight rates to central Canada was held the most practicable method of compensation "in view of the probability of the protective tariff being continued."

SCHOOL NEEDS

Illiteracy in New Brunswick is the highest in Canada—due to inability of the province to maintain a proper standard of education—the Rowell Commission was told today.

There are 20,626 people more than 15 years of age, or 7.14 per cent of the population, who cannot read or write, the government stated.

There were no rural high schools; only a small secondary school enrolment and teachers were generally poorly paid, the average salary being $509.

The government urged federal grants-in-aid to education as a solution.

"If a thorough program, including transportation, were arranged in districts where transportation is practicable, scores of one-room schools would be closed and a much more valuable education provided in consolidated school districts," the government said.

The sessions opened here today are the final provincial hearing by the commission.

3—THE BLACK ART IN PAPUA

People in a Papuan village are watching three figures march around some fruit trees. The figures are from 12 to 15 feet high and look as if they might be demons, or someone's idea of demons.

Papuan priests dressed in demon costumes.

The fact is that each figure is moved by a man, a Papuan priest. With the ugly head of his costume held up above him by a stick, he walks along the ground. He is doing what many other priests of Papua have done—casting a spell over the trees, so that anyone who suffers if he steals the fruit!

When the priests, or witch doctors, place charms on trees, it is nothing to worry about, but when they deal in death it is another thing. Many Papuans have suffered death from snakes let out of bags or boxes by workers in black magic. When angered by someone, the men of magic may put a poisonous snake in his house at night. The snake, we are told, has been "trained" so it will crawl to the sleeping place of the marked man and bite him.

That seems a foolish thing to believe, but time after time, the marked man has died from a snake bite. How does the black magician do it?

The answer to that question is not clear, but sometimes it appears that this plan is followed: A piece of clothing worn by the marked man is stolen and placed in a box with a poisonous snake. The snake gets too hot for comfort. Then the snake is let out of the box at a place where it will crawl into the victim's house. It is supposed that the angry snake catches the scent of the person who wore the clothing it smelled in the box, and that this makes it crawl toward him and bite him.

Often a wizard carries a poisonous snake curled up in the bushy hair of his head! In other cases a snake is carried in a piece of bamboo, with a cap on one end which can be taken off when the snake is needed.

Like witch doctors of Africa, the Papuan wizard carries a fetish bag. In it are all sorts of things to use in casting charms or spells. One bag, when opened, was found to contain little packages of leaves and herbs (probably poisonous), also frogs' feet, the wings of bats, and small human bones.

Although they have not had full success, the white rulers of Papua are doing what they can to cut down the practices of black magic. When natives report harm they have suffered, the police try to capture and punish the wizards.

THURSDAY, MAY 19, 1938

Astrologers read this as a fortunate day, although there may be more enthusiasm than logic in certain impulses. There should be foresight and energy imparted by the planetary influences.

Good feeling may permeate business circles and there is likely to be increase in the volume of domestic trade.

This is not a lucky day for persons who appeal to the public mind. Groups are likely to be actuated by prejudices and self interest.

Girls are warned that this is not an auspicious date for making new friends among eligible young men. College students may find this a dull day for amusements or recreations.

Accidents may be numerous and safety lessons should be accepted with a resolution to apply them. Young persons may be victims of airplane and automobile crashes and should be unusually cautious.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of happy days in which many will travel and all will be able to make progress in financial accumulation.

Children born on this day probably will be fond of change and adventure. Subjects of this sign of Taurus may have strong inclination toward independent effort and may be difficult to direct.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—What qualities should a girl in her middle teens cultivate in order to get along with other people successfully? Just how far will her personality take her?

Answer: Personality will take you farther than any other thing in the world, my dear. It is the real gift of the gods. It is the magic card of admission to wherever you want to go, that opens shut doors to you, that assures you of a welcome, that makes friends for you, that pushes your fortune.

Girls always think that the best luck they can have is good looks, and they spend their time and effort in trying to improve their personal appearance; but, in reality, personality is twice as good a bet as beauty is; and if they would make half as much effort to develop individuality and charm as they do to putting a finger wave in their hair they would get far better results.

Now, of course, in its higher brackets personality is something that comes by nature. It is made up in part of what we call personal magnetism, that indefinable quality that attracts us to people and that makes them seem different and interesting. Lucky are those who possess this precious attribute, but even if we are not so fortunate as to be so endowed, we can cultivate a very good quality of synthetic personality if we are willing to make the effort, and if we are wise enough to begin to do so when we are young.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—My fiancé has a paralyzed little brother that he wants to live with us after we are married, but my mother has to live with us, as she has nowhere else to go and she objects to the child. The child has a father and three sisters who could take care of him. What should I do?

Answer: You expect your husband to welcome your mother and support her, but you are not willing to take in his afflicted little brother. That isn't giving him a very square deal, is it? It isn't fair for you to shirk your part of taking care of the child. Neither is it fair for the other members of the family to pass the buck to you. All should do their share. Or, better still, contribute enough to send the child to a hospital, where he will be better looked after than any of you could possibly do.

Pilots' Lookout

Empress of Canada arrived at Rithet Docks from Orient, 7 a.m.; sailed for Vancouver, 8:30 a.m. Loch Ranza posted to sail from Canadian National docks for Vancouver, 8 p.m.

Queries on Boost In Freight Rate

OTTAWA (CP)—Gordon Grayson, Conservative, Peel, Ont., inquired in the House of Commons yesterday about a reported increase of 6¢ a barrel in the export freight rate on flour. He said representations had been made by millers and he asked if Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, would make representations to the railways.

Mr. Howe said he had no knowledge of the increase, and it was not his function to make representations to railways about freight rates. He suggested the parties interested themselves take the matter up with the railways.

A famous Swiss glacier was timed moving an inch an hour in summer, and about half that fast in winter.

SEEKING AID FOR REFUGEES

Father R. Jacquinot, Shanghai Humanitarian, to Interview President Roosevelt

To raise funds for Chinese refugees, Father R. Jacquinot, chairman of the International Red Cross committee at Shanghai, reached Victoria today aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada.

He is proceeding direct to New York and Washington, D.C., where he will interview President Roosevelt.

Asked what he expected to get from the United States government, he said: "That is rather a difficult question to answer. In humanitarian work the United States has always been extremely generous and I am sure we shall get a sympathetic reception."

Father Jacquinot is the man who interceded with the Japanese authorities during the battle of Shanghai and the saving of the lives of thousands of refugees in Nantao is credited to his efforts.

Bearded, one-armed Father Jacquinot looks for a lengthy struggle in China.

"Peace is not yet at hand. They are not yet ready," he said.

During his absence in Canada and the United States the work of caring for the Chinese refugees is being carried on by the other members of the international committee, composed of Gen. MacNaughten and Findlay.

Andrew, representing Great Britain; W. Plant, director of American Steel Products, for the United States; Major Berents, Norway; and J. Jaspard and J. Sauvayre, French representatives.

"We are trying to reduce the number of refugees in Shanghai and have succeeded in doing so by one-third," said Father Jacquinot. "There were originally 250,000 refugees in the safety zone in Nantao, whereas there are now between 110,000 and 115,000."

The Japanese, and also the Chinese, were unwilling at first to co-operate with the Red Cross in Shanghai, but treaties were later concluded whereby Nantao was respected as a neutral area on a quarantine being given that no arms or combatants were allowed in the zone.

These guarantees were readily given and Nantao was saved from bombardment.

Father Jacquinot expects to amplify greatly the funds of the Shanghai International Red Cross as the result of his visit to this continent.

DOWN THE GANGWAY

Bring in a total of 665 passengers and 2,800 tons of cargo, R.M.S. Empress of Canada, Capt. William T. Kinley, made port at 7 this morning from Orient ports via Honolulu. There were 193 first class, 83 tourist, 125 third class and 262 steerage.

Capt. Kinley reported a splendid summer voyage apart from yesterday's storm which, however, failed to delay the ship. After discharging local freight and mails and disembarking 50 passengers the liner cleared at 8:30 for Vancouver.

A. BROSTEDT BACK

Prominent among the first-class travelers arriving by the Empress of Canada today was A. Brostedt, Asiatic traffic manager for Canadian National Railways, with headquarters at Hongkong.

Mr. Brostedt's territory extends from Hongkong to Bombay, India, and takes in the Straits Settlements and the Dutch East Indies.

Although trade has naturally been seriously affected by the undeclared war in China, business generally was fair, said Mr. Brostedt.

There was a good movement in rubber, tin, tea and other staple commodities, he said.

There was a noticeable shrinkage in the Japan trade, owing to the boycott.

Mr. Brostedt is proceeding through to Montreal to confer with head officials of the Canadian National Railways.

HELD AT BARRIERS

Visitors who were down at the Rithet docks early this morning to greet friends arriving from the Far East by the Empress of Canada were surprised to find that new restrictions prevented them from immediately boarding the ship.

The delay experienced in greeting relatives and friends, however, was not for long.

As soon as the business contingent to immigration and customs inspection was completed the barriers were removed and everybody trooped aboard and fond greetings were exchanged.

The new regulations went into effect with the arrival of the Empress of Canada, the Empress of Asia, and on that occasion, Capt. E. Alkman, superintendent of Canadian Pacific Steamships, is reported to have been unrecognized and stopped at the ship's gangway.

SWALLOWING THE ANCHOR

Robert McEwan, for the last seven years rail traffic representative for the Canadian Pacific Railway in the Trans-Pacific service, is "swallowing the anchor" with his arrival from the Orient today aboard the liner Empress of Canada.

He previously saw two years similar service on the Atlantic.

He is going ashore to take over the office of chief clerk in the Vancouver depot ticket office.

Mr. McEwan is being succeeded on the Empress of Canada by A. L. Horne, who for the last three years has been reservation clerk at the Calgary depot.

Among the Victorians who returned from Honolulu by the Empress of Canada this morning were Miss Zeta Clark, who has been spending a vacation in the Hawaiian Islands.

Others who embarked at Honolulu included Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Christopherson, Mrs. H. C. Fessenden, Mrs. A. T. Eaton, Mrs. W. F. Goldsmith and the Misses S. and A. Goldsmith, Mrs. A. Greenwell and Miss A. Greenwell, Mrs. Mary Dexter and Miss Virginia and Master George Dexter, Mrs. G. A. Cottingham, Mr. and Mrs. George A. ### Plane Service Is Inaugurated

Inaugurating the trans-gulf service of Island Airways, the new red-fuselaged, silver-winged Waco seaplane which was delivered here last night from Fort Erie, Ont., left Esquimalt at 11 this morning on a special flight to Vancouver.

Aboard the ship on another special flight at 1 were C. F. Henley, Alderman Lloyd Morgan, and Jack Dalby of United Air Lines.

The popularity of the service is assured, according to Walter Miles, local agent for the air line. "We are booked up well ahead," he said today.

Body Found On Railway Track

VANCOUVER (CP)—The crushed and broken body of an unidentified man about 30 years of age was found in the Canadian National Railway yards here early today, apparently run over by an outboard freight train.

The body was discovered by a C.N.R. policeman on the right-of-way shortly after the train had passed. A dunnage bag filled with clothing lay nearby. Police said they believed the man had slipped while attempting to board the outboard freight and fell beneath the wheels.

Police failed to find anyone who had witnessed the accident. There were no papers on the victim that would lead to his identity.

Seamen Desert In Australia

Fifteen of Crew of British Cruiser Dorsetshire Stated Missing; Man Shot

HONGKONG (CP-Reuters)—Fifteen seamen deserted H.M.S. Dorsetshire while the cruiser was visiting Australian ports in connection with Sydney's 150th anniversary celebrations, it was disclosed today. Four of the deserters are being brought here from Australia.

When the Dorsetshire was off Queensland early this month, it was learned, Leading Seaman Robert Dickinson was found shot in his bunk. Another seaman was placed under naval arrest.

Australian authorities declared they had no jurisdiction in the case as the incident had occurred outside the limit of territorial waters.

The Admiralty in London said that according to wireless messages from the cruiser only eight seamen had deserted.

TRAVEL MADE HIM CONSTIPATED

Salesman Says Kruschen Keeps Him "On His Toes"

"I am a commercial traveler," writes a correspondent, "and due to endless traveling by train and automobile I find that I become constipated if I do not keep myself internally clean. Kruschen Salts is the only thing that will do this effectively and not interfere with my work. I take a large dose of Kruschen every Saturday night and on Sunday, when I have no work to do, the Salts act on me. On week-days I take a small dose on rising. It is necessary that I be 'on my toes' all through the day, and this is the only way that it possibly can be done."—V. L.

Kruschen Salts is an excellent recipe for maintaining a condition of internal cleanliness. The numerous salts in Kruschen stimulate your internal organs to smooth, regular action. Your inside is thus kept clear of those impurities which, when allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system. (Adv.)
